

ONE SUB, 3 SHIPS LOST BY ALLIES

London, Nov. 13.—An official statement says: "The British submarine E-20 was sunk in the Dardanelles Nov. 5. Nine members of her crew, three officers and six sailors are prisoners. "The submarine was one of the most modern type. She was of 500 tons displacement and was armed with eight torpedo tubes and two quick firing guns."

London, Nov. 13.—The British steamship, Sir Richard Awdry, of 2,234 tons gross, has been sunk. The vessel was 275 feet long, 44 feet beam and 19 feet deep. She was built at Port Glasgow in 1912 and owned by the Peking Syndicate Ltd., of London.

London, Nov. 13.—The British steamer Den of Crombie has been sunk. The crew was saved. She was a vessel of 4,949 tons, seven passengers and 96 members of the crew were saved. Six passengers and fifteen of the crew are missing.

Rome, Nov. 12. (Via Paris, Nov. 13).—The Italian steamer Firenze, 3973 tons gross, has been sunk by a submarine. Twenty-seven passengers and 96 members of the crew were saved. Six passengers and fifteen of the crew are missing.

The Firenze was at last reported to have sailed from Genoa Oct. 12 to Alexandria. She was 344 feet long with a beam of 44 feet and was built in 1912.

FATE OF SEVERAL AMERICANS UNKNOWN

Washington, Nov. 13.—The American consul at Malta cabled Secretary Lansing today that 41 members of the crew and four passengers of the Ancona, none of them Americans, had been landed at Malta by the British steamer Brodia. This one dispatch was the only overnight information received by the state department whose officials still cannot understand the lack of official information. In the continued absence of official information, Secretary Lansing said withholding judgment and avoiding comment.

Rome, Nov. 12. (Via Paris Nov. 12.—Delayed).—Thomas Nelson Pace the American ambassador at Rome today received a report from the Italian foreign office stating that the fate of several native or naturalized Americans who were aboard the Ancona still is in doubt.

Bizerta, Tunis, Nov. 12.—(Via Paris).—The total number of survivors of the Ancona who have been landed at various points on the Tunisian coast is 252. Four victims of the disaster, a man, a woman and two children, all Italians, who died in small boats before they were rescued, were buried here this morning.

FEAR AMERICAN ARTISTS WERE LOST ON THE STEAMER ANCONA

Left to right: Eugene Savage, Ezra Winter and Mrs. Winter. Ezra Winter of the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and winner of the Prix de Rome in 1911, is feared to have been lost on the Italian liner Ancona, with his wife, Mrs. Vera Beaudette Winter, and their three-year-old daughter, Renata. A similar fate, it is feared, has overtaken Eugene Savage, of Bloomington, Ill., winner of the Prix de Rome in 1912, who planned to return to America on the Ancona.

FREIGHTER GOES TO BOTTOM OF LAKE

Erie, Pa., Nov. 13.—The freighter P. D. Armour, of the Boreland-Cornelius Line from Cleveland to Buffalo with coal, struck on a shoal in Lake Erie, off Walde- mere, four miles west of here last night, and after being pounded for hours by a heavy sea sank this morning.

Part of the crew was taken off early in the day but Captain Joseph Boreland and three other men stayed on the boat until nine o'clock when they were rescued with difficulty by Captain Hans Jansen and the life saving crew. First reports that the tug Gillen of Ashtabula, towing the Armour, and another tug, had been sunk, were later disproved.

ALLIES UNEASY ABOUT GREECE; VON HINDENBURG HARD PRESSED; BULGARS TURNED BY FRENCH

London, Nov. 13.—Uneasiness is being shown by the entente allied powers over the attitude of Greece and this feeling is not likely to be allayed by the latest news that a German military mission has arrived at Athens by way of Bulgaria and Saloniki.

News from the eastern front agrees that Field Marshal von Hindenburg's situation in the Riga district is becoming extremely difficult. The Russians continuing their attacks between Olai and the west of Lake Babit are reported to be forcing the Germans into the woods and marshes which greatly hamper the movements of the teutons. In an effort to overcome these difficulties the Germans are exerting every energy to complete the railroads which they are building in courland.

Saloniki, Nov. 11 (Via Paris Nov. 12).—(Delayed).—The entire Bulgarian force operating west of Vardar has been endangered by simultaneous offensives, undertaken by Serbian and French troops, according to advices from the front.

The Serbs have retaken the offensive in the Supogora district and are reported to have defeated the Bulgars at Katchanik Pass, inflicting such heavy losses that the invaders were demoralized. Two French cavalry raids are said to have cleared the ground between Krivolak and Velea.

British and French reinforcements are arriving at Saloniki in force and are being sent immediately into Serbia.

Saloniki, N. C. H. (Via Paris Nov. 12). (Delayed in transmission).—Re-

Paris, Nov. 12.—Captain Catini of the French steamer Calvados sunk by a German submarine November 4, in the vicinity of the Strait of Gibraltar, was killed on the bridge of his ship. Survivors who were taken to hospitals in Algiers state that eighty persons who were aboard the Calvados, sought refuge on a raft but were engulfed when the raft was overturned in an eddy caused by the submarine circling about. Six sailors and the second mate who wore life belts were saved after being in the water 24 hours.

Mrs. J. C. Mercer, wife of N. S. Mercer, Conductor Mercer, left Friday for Picketon to be at the bedside of her father, who is seriously ill.

AMERICAN WOMAN JUMPS TO SAFETY

Paris, Nov. 12.—Passengers aboard the Italian liner Ancona were compelled to seek safety in the boats while the steamer was subjected to a cannonade from an Austrian submarine, according to a graphic story of the sea tragedy told by Dr. Cecile L. Greil of New York. The American woman escaped only through her ability as a gymnast. She tried vainly to find a place in two boats but there was no room for her. She saved herself by dropping from the deck into a launch which already was in the sea. Her maid was killed in their cabin by a gunshot.

Dr. Greil's story indicates that the torpedo which sent the Ancona to the bottom was not fired until the steamer had been riddled by shots from the guns of the submarine.

Naples, Nov. 12.—(Via Paris).—Survivors of the Ancona, interrogated by the authorities of Tunis, testified, according to telegrams received here today from Tunis, that a submarine during the night chased the boats containing the passengers and captured some of them.

REVIVE PEACE RUMOR

London, Nov. 13.—The Times this morning calls attention to a "curious coincidence" which took place recently at The Hague. A visit of Joseph Caillaux, former Premier of France and Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, the French peace advocate, to The Hague, has aroused great interest in the diplomatic world, the paper says, by reason of the fact that certain members of the German Reichstag were at The Hague at the same time.

Alliance, O., Nov. 13.—The strike of one hundred girls of the five Sebring potteries was ended today when the girls agreed to accept the proposition of the manufacturers to return to work on piece work with a guaranteed minimum wage of $9 a week. The potteries will resume Monday when 1,000 employees will go to work after an illness of four days.

NEED MONEY AND TIME FOR THIS RAILROAD

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Five years time and an expenditure of approximately $25,000,000 is required for the thorough rehabilitation of the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railway Co. now in the hands of a receiver, according to the special report of J. W. Kendrick made public here today.

YALE BOWL SCENE OF BITTER STRUGGLE; SPLENDID WEATHER GREETED THE THRONG

Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—Sixty thousand spectators gathered here this afternoon to witness the football game between the eleven of Yale and the Princeton universities. Remarkable weather conditions greeted the players and the huge throng of gridiron enthusiasts which followed the fortunes of the rival teams.

Body Of Imaginary Husband Of A Pretty Music Teacher Proves To Be That Of A Tramp

Chicago, Nov. 13.—A body which Miss Julia Choate Crumley, of Atlanta, Ga., claimed in Chicago as that of her husband, Dr. Alleyne Hensley, of Quebec, Canada, was, in fact, that of a tramp destined for the potter's field according to a statement today by members of the undertaking firm which cared for the body.

Dispatches from Atlanta last night said that Miss Crumley, or Mrs. Hensley, had announced there, that she married Hensley and he had been killed in an accident and she brought back his body from Chicago.

Miss Crumley last Tuesday appeared at the office of the Western Undertaking Co., said an official of the company today and said:

Constantinople Is The Kaiser's New Destination

London, Nov. 13.—Emperor William on Thursday passed through Orsova, Hungary, on his way to Sofia where he will visit King Ferdinand.

Afterwards the Emperor plans to inspect Field Marshal Von Mackensen's armies, which are now invading Serbia, and later will pay a visit to Constantinople.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA TO BOOST MEMBERSHIP

At a well attended meeting of White Lily Council, Daughters of America, Friday evening, it was decided to entertain the Jr. O. U. A. M. and Jr. O. U. A. M. band members next Friday evening. A special program is being arranged and a banquet will follow. The committee in charge is composed of Grace Till, Frank Schmidt, Icy Stewart, Lorena Woods and Mrs. Mary Boyles. The business session will start promptly at seven o'clock, instead of 7:30.

Next Friday evening a membership contest will be launched. The total membership of the lodge has been divided into two sides, one being known as the Gold and the other the Silver.

Pearl Dixon is captain and Frank Schmidt lieutenant of the Silver workers and Lorena Woods and Pete Quickle are captain and lieutenant of the Gold side.

A special dispensation has been received and the contest will continue for ten weeks, the slogan of the contestants being 100 members in ten weeks.

New members will count 100 points, re-instatements 50 points, and regular attendants 5 points. The losers will entertain the winners with a program and banquet.

Mrs. Mary Boyles and Mrs. Henry Noble were members reported ill.

Contagion Is Disappearing

Ten families having contagion in their homes were released from quarantine by Dr. W. W. Smith, city health officer, Saturday. This leaves only six cases of scarlet fever and eight of diphtheria, four of which will be discharged Monday.

Cuba's Rich Soil.
In some of the islands of the West Indies there are areas of cane which have yielded fair crops for twenty years without replanting. In Cuba the most progressive planters usually allow no more than five or six "ratoons" crops, the fields being then replanted. The soil is so rich that rotation of crops has apparently not been found necessary.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

When you ride in it you will realize that it has all the responsiveness, comfort and power you want in a car.

It gets away instantaneously and skims the road silently and smoothly without motor vibration or sidesway at high speed.

The motor seems always to have more and still more power when occasion requires.

There is no choking at low speed in high gear, and there is an unusual freedom from gear shifting.

At full speed there is scarcely a tremor of the motor.

The motor is 30-55 horsepower. The price of the Touring Car or Roadster, complete, is $785 (f. o. b. Detroit).

CHOIR TO VISIT

The Bigelow Intermediate Choir composed of the following young ladies, the Misses Helen Brodner, Mary Holmes, Ruth Fitch, Gladys Hughes, Hortense Ball, Helen Nye, Martha Phillips and Hazel Holmes, will sing an offertory anthem at the morning service at All Saints church tomorrow. The offertory selected for this occasion is Ashworth's "Nearer My God to Thee." They will also assist in the rendition of the rest of the music at this service.

SAVE MY SCISSORS, SAID DRUNK

O'Brien Bannon was the name given by a stranger who stretched out on the lawn of Grant Williams' home at Gallia and Union streets Saturday morning to sleep off a jag. He was brought to the city prison by Officer Joe Stokley in the Williams touring car and when searched was found to have $27.95 but was chiefly concerned about a pair of shears, his last words being "Save the scissors."

AGED WOMAN STRICKEN

Mrs. Ella Winter, well known resident of Lucasville suffered a stroke of paralysis several days ago. Both limbs are affected. Mrs. Winter was in her back yard when suddenly stricken. NEW BOSTON REVIVAL DRAWING BIG CROWDS

Friday night saw the largest crowd yet at the New Boston Christian church to hear Harry Edwards in his evangelistic campaign. Standing room only was left for the late-comers.

"Who Was Jesus?" a story from real life in Philadelphia, made an absorbing story, especially when told in the characteristic manner of this man Edwards. The young people's choir surpassed their previous performances and the choir loft was filled to overflowing. Their leader, J. Bedford Edwards, was in fine form. A piano and violin duet by Miss Stella Smith and himself added to the musical part of these services.

Saturday night the story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde will be told by Mr. Edwards and arrangements are being made for a record attendance.

Sunday will be a big day at the revival church. In the morning a short preaching service will be

WIFE GETS DIVORCE

A decree of divorce was awarded in common pleas court Saturday morning to Sophia Phillips, wife of Earl Phillips, on the grounds of adultery and gross neglect of duty. She was also awarded the custody of the child, and her husband was directed to pay $4 a week for its support with the privilege of seeing it for one hour every Sunday afternoon.

The couple was married in April 1913 and separated about a year ago, according to the wife's testimony. Milton and Micklethwait represented the plaintiff.

RAILROADS BUSY--EVERYBODY HAPPY

When railroads are busy everybody is busy, so it has been wisely said.

Good times are evidently here to stay, judging from the activities of the railroads. Here are some of the improvements contemplated and recently placed orders for equipment:

The Chesapeake and Ohio has ordered ten Mallet type engines from the American Locomotive Works.

The Pennsylvania road has ordered 75 Mikado type locomotives from the Baldwin Works.

The Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western, which will shortly be operating independently of the C. H. and D. in fact about December 1, has recently placed an order with the Lima Locomotive Company for 42 locomotives.

The C. and O. is inquiring for 1,000 steel 70-ton coal cars.

The Atlantic Coast line has placed an order with the American Car Company for 250 flat cars.

The B. & O. has ordered 1,300 hoppers from the Cambria Steel Company.

The Western Maryland has ordered 2,000 hopper cars from the Pullman Company.

The Pennsylvania Company has authorized the construction of 100 all-steel coal cars in its Altoona shops and are in the market for 25,000 freight cars.

The Pressed Steel Car Company, having recently completed the building of 7,500 steel freight cars for the Russian government, recently received an additional order for 8,500 of these cars.

The Central of Georgia has ordered 5,000 tons of steel rails from the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton are proceeding to lay seven miles of double track between South Dayton, O., and Miamishburg, the approximate cost for which is estimated at $175,000.

The right of way is being secured for an electric line to be built from Hancock, Md., south to Berkeley Springs, W. Va., about 10 miles.

A railroad from Louisville, N. C., to connect with the Atlantic Coast Line at Rocky Mount is said to be in contemplation by residents of Louisville, N. C. The distance is about 35 miles.

The Western Maryland railroad is making surveys from a point on the B. and O. near Hutchinson, W. Va., west to Wyatt, W. Va., about eight miles, for a line to be built to develop coal fields.

Police Clerk Dennis Coriell while at the Cincinnati workhouse Friday saw Fronie Hollingsworth, a local ne'er-do-well, who has just completed her sixth month of a sentence in that institution.

She is very anxious to secure her released, but Mayor Erick is still determined that both she and her side-partner, Bess Hurd, shall remain there until New Year's day.

ELECTION CONTEST TO BE HEARD WEDNESDAY

Judge Beatty has fixed Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock as the time for hearing the election contest suit filed Friday afternoon by Marion Pool, defeated candidate for justice of the peace of Clay township. Mr. Pool wants the election of J. L. Rieker, his successful opponent, set aside, on the ground that the ballot indicated that two justices were to be elected instead of one. He claims to have received the majority of votes of those who voted for but one candidate, and wants the court to declare him the successful candidate.

Bowlers Banquet Was Grand Success, Dr. Keyes President

Had any member of the Masonic Bowling League any fears as to the outlook for the organization of 1915-16, these fears went up in smoke at the enthusiastic get-together banquet served at Seel's parlors Friday evening, when upwards of fifty members met in solid concourse to lend voice and presence to the successful continuation of the organization, one of the best of its kind in the entire country.

The members of the league have had splendid meetings in the past, but it can be truthfully said that this one of Friday night was the equal of any, not only in good fellowship, but singleness of purpose as well. The members thrashed out their little differences as to the arrangements of teams in a manner, the keynote of which was "the good of the organization." It was finally decided to turn the whole affair over to the directors, consisting of the various captains and officers, who will meet on Monday night at the Temple, where a schedule will be perfected, teams selected and everything made ready for the opening of the season, which will start within the next few days.

Budgeting from the interest manifested, it will probably be found necessary to enlarge the league to ten clubs. More than sixty Masons have signified their willingness to bond, and if that ratio is maintained, it will take at least ten clubs to accommodate the members. However, all these points will be covered at the directors' meeting on Monday evening, when it is imperative that all captains be present. "So far as possible, it is the intention of the directors to keep the teams of 1914-15 as near intact as possible. However, this scheme may have to be abandoned in order to balance the strength of the teams as evenly as possible. The league was formed primarily along the lines of good fellowship and it is the intention of the directors to keep alive that spirit. Rivalry comes second, and while it is keen, nevertheless it is of a kindly nature.

William Zottmann, one of the veteran bowlers, has presided over the destiny of the league as president for the past two years, and under his administration the organization has splendidly developed and brought up to a high state of excellence. President Zottmann has ever been on the job, and has worked early and late for the success of the league. He has never dodged an issue, meeting all matters fair and square. However, at his own solicitation he asked the members to name a new president, as he desired to be a private in the ranks, and thought the office should be passed around. The mantle of president then fell upon the broad and well-proportioned shoulders of Dr. W. J. Keyes, who accepted the office in a neat little speech in which he promised to do his best to fill the position, although he realized that President Zottmann had established a pretty high standard. F. W. Sheridan and Clarence Nodder were unanimously chosen secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The banquet was one of par excellence, faultlessly served. Caterer Seel did himself proud, and the boys showed their appreciation by making a clean sweep. If the members were as good in assailing temptations as they are the products of Caterer Seel's kitchen and ovens, they would all lead the world in the matter of averages.

The banquet was a glittering success from every viewpoint, and is only indicative of the friendly spirit that permeates the league, just as said before, the best organization of its kind in the country.

"Shonk's" Dog Mixes Up With A Bull Dog And The Times Is Minus Cartoon

A terrific battle between a pointer and a bull-dog caused all kinds of excitement in the vicinity of Eighth and Brown streets Saturday morning.

The principals were "Rex," the big black and white pointer belonging to J. H. Shonkwiler, Times cartoonist, and a big white English bull, the property of Jesse Beck, of Prospect street, and the scene of the conflict was the front porch and hall of the Shonkwiler home.

Just how the fight started no one knows, but the supposition is that "Rex" was enjoying his usual snooze in the warm sunlight on his own front porch when the militant bull-dog came along and soon what proved to be a desperate fight was on. The two dogs fought over the porch, and the front door being slightly open, they came on into the hall, frightening Mrs. Shonkwiler, who was alone at the time, almost to the verge of nervous prostration. In response to her frantic call for help, Greger Walter-Norris and several men hurried to the house and tried to part the animals, but unsuccessfully, and a hurry call was sent in for "Shonk." Before he reached the scene, however, a passing teamster came in and stopped the battle by the vigorous and judicious application of a full-grown raw-hide whip, but not before both dogs were literally covered with gore and the previously immaculate hall presented the appearance of a young slaughter-house.

As a result of the encounter between these two blue-blooded gentlemen of dogdom, the English bull is now viewing the world from the end of a chain, Rex is navigating with a most decided limp and spending all his spare time licking the gore ball, frightening Mrs. Shonkwiler, who was alone at the time, almost to

HAD EXPLOSIVE WHEN ARRESTED; ABOUT TO BOARD A BIG STEAMER

New York, Nov. 13.—Two sticks of dynamite, a form of dynamite used extensively in coal mines were found today in the baggage of a man about to board the American line steamer St. Louis five minutes before she sailed for Liverpool. The man who said his name was Abraham Cummings and nationality British, was arrested and the explosive taken from him.

Detection of the dynamite was brought about by Cummins strenuous objection to the customary examination of baggage which all passengers have to undergo.

"Toyland" A Beauty At Bragdon Store

Harry Boyd, window trimmer at the Bragdon Dry Goods Co., has done himself proud this year, in the arrangement of "Toyland" at the popular dry goods emporium.

"Toyland," the delight of all the little boys and girls in the city, stands out prominently, a tribute to the artistic temperament of Mr. Boyd, who is in the front rank of his profession. For a background, Mr. Boyd has placed a large brick chimney, and to further the effect, has wired old Santa Claus so that when the electric current is turned on, the good old Saint bobs up and down the chimney with the grace bestowed upon him by the myriads of writers of the long ago.

The Christmas color scheme has been carefully carried out by Mr. Boyd, and the many pretty dolls, all dressed in bright array, add much to the appearance of "Toyland." The whole scheme is enhanced by hundreds of incandescent lights, which make the place as light as day and show off the arrangement to perfection.

There are all sorts of dolls and the fear that there would be a "doll

SOCIETY

Mrs. H. C. Mosely delightfully entertained with a one o'clock luncheon Thursday for the pleasure of Mrs. Wilson McCain, who is moving to Midland, Pa. The table was prettily adorned in scarlet and green. Covers were laid for the members of the Sew and Sew Club, Mesdames W. H. Eshleman, Joseph Micklethwait, Howard Miller, C. F. Cissna, Charles Moreland, Edward Cudiffe, Ely Brown. The menu was daintily served in four courses. After luncheon the afternoon was spent with beautiful music by Mrs. Mosley's handsome new pianola, which was presented to her yesterday by her husband. As a parting gift to Mrs. McCain the guests presented her with a table mirror and beautiful cut-glass bowl.

Mrs. Ann Reed left early this week for Delaware to visit her daughter, Mrs. Edward Sentans. On her way she stopped in Columbus Tuesday to spend the day with her brother, Mr. George O. Newman, who celebrated his 79th birthday anniversary on that day at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Supreme Judge and Mrs. Oscar W. Newman. Mrs. Reed was joined in Columbus by her daughter, Mrs. Semans, who took her mother to her home in Delaware.

On account of the death of Mr. George Lockwood this afternoon's meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs was postponed until Saturday of next week. Mrs. Lockwood was elected president for this year but resigned on account of the serious illness of Mr. Lockwood.

Miss Augusta Connelley left this afternoon for her home in Columbus after a short visit with Mrs. George Davis.

The Clover Club will hold the regular meeting next Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Alice Dever, on Gallin street, who will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. W. R. Sprague. The program follows:

Roll-Call—Current Events.
Physical Cost of Women's Work—Miss Edith Fulton.
Work and Play of the Working Girl—Miss Edna Marting.
Discussion—Congested Living—Mrs. Smith; The Farm—Miss Small.
Music—Mrs. Philip Wickerham.
Critic—Miss Evans.

The Wednesday Afternoon Sewing Club will be entertained Wednesday afternoon, November 24th, at the home of Mrs. Gilbert D. Waite.

The members of the Seinto Bridge Club who lost during the last series will entertain the winners with a luncheon next Thursday, at one o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John A. Grimes. The invitations read as follows:

"Not satisfied with your high score,
You insist upon a party,
So come next week, November
eighteenth,
And eat a meal right hearty.
At one o'clock, on Thursday next,
Is when you are invited.
On Second street, ten-twenty-four.
We hope you'll be delighted."

Mrs. Agnes La Fèvre has returned from a two weeks' visit in Newport, Ky., where she visited Mrs. E. C. Fisher and Mrs. C. W. Zell.

Mrs. W. S. Walker will be hostess at the next meeting of the Country Club on Friday, November 26th.

Rowe and son, Reed, Anna Amelia Jeffords and Misses Graham, Anna Jeffords, Amelia Jeffords, Davis and Mr. Burgess Reeg. The guests departed for their homes about 10 o'clock after spending an enjoyable evening.

The Little Misses Sewing Club was entertained this afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Mar-McMahon, on Ninth street. Those present were Jane Snyder, D. Jones, Maier, Mary Switalski, Anna Gieseler, Clara Vetter, Louise Schaefer, Louise Gonyou, Frances Schroeder, Rosemary Shumaker, Dorothy Russell, Mrs. Margaret Keane, Dorothy Lillick, Evelyn Duschinski and Julia Anna McMahon. Games were played after the needlework. A box of handkerchiefs and a pretty pin cushion were the prizes given to the lucky ones. Delicious refreshments were served at a large table. The places were marked with cards adorned with tulle. The decorations were in keeping with the near approach of Thanksgiving. Delicis Maier will entertain the club on Thanksgiving day at the home of her parents in Moulton Place.

Mrs. C. M. Sead gave a charming bridge party this afternoon when she entertained enough guests for six tables. Mrs. Josephine Martin, of Ann Arbor, Mich., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. James W. Bannan, was among the guests. The game was followed by light refreshments served at the card tables. Mrs. Sead being assisted by Mrs. W. D. Gil-land and Mrs. John A. Brooker. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Sead will entertain at bridge twenty-four friends, including Miss Sallie Smith, of New York, sister of Mrs. Guy V. Thompson. The favors will be dainty cards in keeping with Thanksgiving. A lunch will be served at the card tables at the end of the game.

The Matron and Maid Club will be entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Naudie Courty on Sixth street.

SHIRT WAIST MOTIF

Sarah Hale Hunter

This motif is to be used on a shirtwaist which opens in front. The leaves and oval figures are solidly worked, with the larger dots as eyelets and the stems in the outline stitch. The small dots are done in French knots. This design may be embroidered on colored linen or lawn in white cotton with good effect. The collar and cuff pattern to match were given last week. Mercerized cotton No. 25 should be used.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANS-FERRING

In taking off these patterns, lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with pencil, as the design will show through.

No patterns of these designs are available.

guest is most interested, and then lead him to talk about it. Every person has at least one enthusiasm, and if you can find out what that is, and just let him talk, he will go away thinking what a very pleasant evening he has had. Don't you play or sing? An accomplishment of that kind is usually a "life saver."

Dear Dolly—I am 16 years old and very much in love with a gentleman who attends our church. He is about 22 years old. Do you think he is too old for me? He goes with an older set than I do. How can I make him know I care for him? I think he is a boy about my own age who takes me home from church and sits with me when I go to church at night. Do you think that the gentleman of 22 stays away from me because of this?

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me where Jim Haskins lives. SALLIE. Where art thou, Jimmy?

Dear Miss Wise—Please give me some suggestions about a home Thanksgiving wedding—about the decorations. What should be served for a lap supper and how should it be served? BRIDE-ELECT. Decorate with chrysanthemums and ferns or palms. Vases of flowers about the rooms and palms as a background for the altar would be very pretty and all that is necessary for a home wedding. Serve a fruit salad with a whipped cream on top, chicken or turkey sandwiches and coffee. For a second course have the wedding cakes and ice cream. A very pretty way to serve a lap supper is on a board about 18 inches by 12, covered with white crepe paper. If there is some color scheme for the decorations, such as pink or

Last evening's meeting of the Trinity Methodist Church Esther Circle was postponed until Friday evening of next week on account of the illness of the hostess, Miss Ruth Shaw.

The New Hope Class of the First Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a winter picnic last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Har-ley, 1625 Eleventh street, where there were thirty members present, each one bringing with them a part of the lunch, which was served at two long tables set in the dining-room.

Mrs. Edward Ellessor, of Grant street, entertained this afternoon with a children's party in celebration of the ninth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Lucile, who entertained about thirty-five little guests with various games, after which fruit, ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Ellessor, assisted by her sister, Miss Leona Hasselmann. The beautiful birthday cake held nine pink candles. Special guests of the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hasselmann, of New Boston, grandparents of the young hostess.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board was held yesterday afternoon, when there were twenty present.

Mrs. C. W. Rowe will leave next Wednesday for Columbus to spend one week inspecting the different Women's Relief Corps. Mrs. Rowe is assistant inspector and will also inspect corps at Westerville and Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Howland, of Franklin avenue, will have as over Sunday guests: Rev. A. T. Houscy, who recently returned from Bolivia, Africa, where he spent six years as missionary. Rev. and Mrs. Oakley will also be entertained at dinner Sunday at the Howland home.

Mr. T. J. Basham, of New Boston, gave $25 towards the debt of the First Christian church, $10 of it through the Woman's Union and $15 through Section 2, of which Mrs. Basham is a valued member.

Mrs. I. Edelson and baby daughter, Rosemary, of No. 1122 Second street, left Saturday afternoon for a visit in Ashland, Ky.

Mrs. Margaret Warnock, of 84-10th, Ky., was in the city shopping Saturday.

If the childless couple at Wheelersburg who had an inquiry in this column a few weeks ago regarding the adoption of a little girl baby will send me their name and address or phone me, I will tell them where they can get a darling little girl three and one-half years of age. The little one's mother died recently and the grandmother who is unable to care for the child is willing to place her in some good home where she will be properly cared for.

Dear Miss Wise—My wife and I have just leased a hotel and are at a loss as to what name to give our new establishment, as our name is Slaughter. Do you think it would be all right to name it "The Slaughter House"? Wife and I have had a stiff argument over this. Thanking you in advance for your advice.

By all means call it the "Slaughter House."

me an introduction to a nice young man whom I could respect and admire. What do you think I should do? LONELY GIRL.

Go to church and church socials. There you will meet young people and have opportunity to make friends. Aren't there any nice girls in your neighborhood whom you could go with, or invite to your home occasionally?

Dear Miss Wise—I am 19 and have been going with a fellow four years. He is 23. He treats me nice and tells me he is in love with me, but he has never asked me to marry him. I love him, but could give him up if I thought best.

MARIE. Four years is a long time to go with a man whose intentions are not serious. It might be a good idea for you to go about with other young men once in awhile, just to find out where you stand. When he sees he is not the "only pet" on the beach," maybe he will sit up and take notice.

Want-To-Know—Your question was answered in Friday night's Times.

Worried Sue—I would never go with him again if I were you. The fact that he said he would never come back till you do as he says shows that he doesn't care for you. What he wants is a girl who will permit him to go as far as he likes, then when he gets tired of her he will turn her down. The man is not sincere or he would not have popped the question after knowing you only a week. Don't say anything unless the opportunity presents itself, then you might say you were sorry you acted so foolish or something to that effect.

CAR SHOOTS OVER MOUNTAIN—LOCAL MEN IN CLOSE CALL

Phil Wickerham And Brother Have Perilous Experience

Skidding on the icy surface of the National Pike about 300 feet this side of the Summit hotel, Monday evening, P. G. and Peter S. Wickerham, tourists from Portsmouth, Ohio, escaped death by the narrowest of margins when their Overland car shot over the mountain side, turned turtle and crashed against a locust tree against the hillside, says the Uniontown, Pa., Daily News-Standard.

Except for numerous bruises and cuts, the motorists were unhurt and were able to extricate themselves from their perilous position and make their way up the hill to the road.

Shortly after the accident, Henry Menhart of Chalk Hill found the Messrs. Wickerham along the pike, where they had attempted to reach the Summit. Mr. Menhart got them into his wagon and drove them to Chalk Hill where they spent the night at the hotel.

The accident happened in a dense fog and at a point where the pike is particularly slippery

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. North, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, November 12, 1915.
To all intents and purposes Serbia is out of the war and a few more days during which the Allies can give her no effectual assistance, will see her in the position of Bulgaria and at least Old Serbia occupied by the armies of the Central Powers and Bulgaria.

The Serbian forces of the north have been driven into the dreary, roadless mountain country, cut off from supply base and communications and partly from their lines of retreat. They are coupled up in the narrow territory between Nish in the east and Novi Bazar in the west where they are said to be retreating with their king pursued by the Bulgarians and threatened on both flanks, to the north from the German-Austrians under Gallwitz and Koyevs, who are advancing from Krushevatz, Trestenik, Kraljevo, Cacak and Pojeva, and to the south from the Bulgarians.

Should they really get to Novi Bazar, which is doubtful, there is only one road open to them for safety. That leads into Bosnia and is probably occupied by the Austrians by this time. The Montenegrins are fighting for their own salvation and have been defeated east of Trebinje, where the Austrians stormed the Jlinobor-do heights and broke their front.

What the Austro-Germans will do in South Serbia after they finish their present campaign, the immediate object of which has been the opening of the way to Turkey, General Mackensen knows better than we do but you can bet your last dollar upon it that they will not remain at Nish to protect the railroad and defy the Allies to retake it, as some London strategists predict, but will meet them on their chosen ground on Vardar and Struma.

The Allies' assurance of driving the Bulgars must have been considerably shaken by their defeat from the hands of the Southern Bulgarian army, which bars their way along the Vardar river and the railroad south of Uskub, between Krivolak and Prilep before Mackensen's supports have come up.

Berlin reports of this affair: "The Allies made a violent attack upon the defensive positions of the Bulgarians. In addition to heavy losses in killed and wounded they had many prisoners taken, mostly British."

Saloniki says that the French are pressing the Bulgars back west of the Vardar river. The quick capture of Nish, which secures direct rail communication with Constantinople besides the much longer Danube route, reflects much credit upon the Bulgarians. (They took it after a three days' siege.) The garrison escaped but the Austro-Germans made up for it at Krushevatz and Kraljevo where 7,000 prisoners and 150 guns fell into their hands and an immense amount of copper and caoutchouc, which comes handy to the Germans, who found the arsenals and munition works intact. The Serbians had evidently counted upon British help up to the last hour.

At Kraljevo Gallwitz's Brandenburg's air d'io fight their way to the arsenal through the streets and byways in a bloody hand to hand combat. The booty in both places is valued at $12,500,000. In all the German-Austrians so far have taken 541 cannons.

Berlin says: "Junction of the German-Austrian and Bulgarian armies in Serbia proper (old Serbia) has been established and the fate of the Serbian main army seems to be sealed."

The Russians are making mighty efforts to save Riga on Duenaburg. They give the Germans no rest and of late have made daily attacks on their positions south of Riga, on the lakes, at Duenaburg and Jacobstadt, half way between the two cities, in every instance with the same dire result.

Hindenburg seems to be temporizing on account of frequent thaws but the season of hard frost is setting in, rivers, lakes and roads are freezing up which will enable him to bring up the heavy ordnance required for siege work. He has evacuated Schlock, west of Riga, because the country has been transformed into swamps.

en different attempts to discharge them, boasting with 8,600 prisoners in a surprise attack at Sienkavice.

The Russian forces have been reoccupied but their offensive power is broken. They have to confine themselves to holding what they have on Duena, Njemen, Pripiet, Styr and Stripa. It is true the yhave tried a number of drives lately to keep the Germans from withdrawing any considerable force but instead of driving they have been driven.

Last February the Turks were on the march to Egypt and the Suez Canal but the Anglo-French Dardanelles expedition made them turn back, at least this was given as the reason for their alleged failure in London. Now Enver Pasha, the Turkish war minister, explains that the expedition was merely a reconnaissance and all strategic positions of importance on the road to the Suez Canal have been held. On the other hand London informs us that the British have made ample preparations for the defense of the canal. The fortifications are set under water and a big fleet of low draft war craft is assembled at Port Said. If the British have occupied Bagdad, as they say, it will be of great advantage to them, but the report lacks confirmation.

Washington has confidential information that Kitchener's ultimate mission is to India and Egypt where British rule is confronted with a serious state of unrest. That this has been unknown, as Washington says, is not quite correct. For a year and over there has been something brewing in India and Egypt and continental papers have had reports of risings and bloodshed in India.

Only a few days ago Cairo despatches spoke of "a suppressed palace revolution to dethrone the British Sultan and recall the exiled rightful Egyptian ruler from Constantinople, which led to the arrest of forty officials and the execution of twenty-five."

A rising of the Egyptian nationalists who are well organized and are led by the student youth of Cairo, is sure, if the Germans should get to Cairo. And India would follow Egypt in a movement for liberty and national independence.

A forerunner of revolution in India is seen in the fall of the Sultan of Hyderabad, the richest and most powerful rajah, who fitted out two regiments for the British at the beginning of the war.

The news has come to Washington from reliable sources, it is stated.

In regard to the situation on the Austro-Italian front Vienna and Rome differ as usual. The Italians claim that they have stormed the Col di Lana, Vienna asserts that all assaults on the Isounzo as well as in the Alps have been repulsed and that the Austrians everywhere stand today where they stood before. From the west front only trench fighting in the Vosges is reported.

In the submarine warfare the British and Germans have changed places that is their field of operation. A British submarine torpedoed the small German cruiser Undine, used as a convoy for the overseas ferry between Ruen and Trelleborg, Sweden, in the Baltic, and German submarines which passed the British guards through the Strait of Gibraltar sunk a British auxiliary and half a dozen big freighters in the Mediterranean, one on the coast of Algier.

Channel warfare the German Admiralty has given up as a concession to American shipping and to keep out of embroilment with the United States.

Among the steamers sunk, probably by an Austrian submarine, was the Italian liner Ancona, 8210 tons, on the way from Genoa to New York. Of 482 steerage passengers about 150 are missing. The Fremdenblatt of Vienna says: "The Ancona has brought reservists and munition on every trip, enough to kill thousands of our brothers, and was returning for more. She would not have been sunk if she had heeded the warning in time."

The British Admiralty announces that the destroyer Louis, a new ship, has been stranded in the Mediterranean. It had a crew of 100 men and carried three guns and four torpedo tubes. The Almeria Marine News is of the opinion that the Louis was torpedoed in an engagement on the Spanish coast.

The former Hamburg-American liner Dacia, rebaptized Yser, which last summer was seized by the French with a cargo of cotton on the voyage from New York to Rotterdam and condemned by a prize court although sailing under American register, has been torpedoed by a German submarine off the port of Bizerta.

The conduct of the war by Lord Kitchener and those held responsible for it has been sharply criticised in the British Upper House by Lords Lorebourne and Milner. "If the war lasts much longer there will be revolution or anarchy," the former declared. While the latter denounced the censorship. "The war news as published in England is deceiving and doctored by the censor, the German reports are more truthful than the English," he said. Kitchener is now "on a mission" to the near East. The old sealord Churchill (rats) has had to go with him.

Baron Davenport in passing upon Asquith's report in parliament on the war expenditures, which are enormous, made the amazing admission that Great Britain faces a grave financial crisis. "We cannot go on indefinitely as we have been doing and maintain our financial solvency," he declared, but the parliament has granted another war credit of $2,000,000,000.

As to the predicament of the cabinet members of it seem that if they don't hang together they will hang separately but a war cabinet has been formed within the cabinet with dictatorial power in all matters pertaining to the conduct of the war.

Mr. Montague, Financial Secretary to the British Treasury, told the truth in parliament the other day when he said, that food prices would end the war and that the grand strategy was to keep them lower in England than they were in Germany. But how is he to do that under the old law of supply and demand? Germany has organized production and distribution on an undeniably efficient basis, the Allies produce and distribute more or less at random. The war is really between these two methods. The method that succeeds longest in supplying both the armies and the people will win in the long run.

The Greek cabinet crisis has been bridged over by the old statesman Skouloussis accepting the premiership after Zaimis refused to keep it. The rest of the cabinet, Venizelos included, remains. Berlin says: "Skouloussis is acceptable to Germany."

The king has dissolved the parliament and set the election for December 19.

Greece has assured the Entente powers a sincere benevolent neutrality which will not give much comfort to them although possibly security against attack in the rear.

As an equivalent Skouloussis wants further financial assistance from the Allies, $8,000,000 it is said. The Greek is a shrewd trader.

In Athens it has been semi-officially announced that by agreement between Germany and Bulgaria the Bulgarians will not enter Greek territory and demobilize after the campaign in Serbia, when the three Balkan states, Bulgaria, Greece and Romania will act jointly in all Balkan questions, following the example of the Scandinavian states.

The third Austrian war loan like the German has been as much of a success as the two former ones. So far 5000 millions Kronen have been subscribed. Vienna papers quote this as proof of "decadent" Austria's economical and financial strength which compares well with England's showing in the face of her boast that she would win the war with silver bullets. Austria is strong, Russia half bankrupt.

The Japanese Premier, Count Okuma, has revealed to a correspondent of the Paris Temps that Japan cannot send an expedition to assist the Allies in Europe as it has not sufficient transports. London holds that Japan is bound by its treaty to protect English interests in India. Japan certainly will not go out of Asia.

Certain German papers, attacked by the feeling over the munition question, declare that President Wilson's speech at the New York Manhattan Club has made it impossible for the United States to act as mediator or to take part in peace preliminaries. They do not voice the sentiments of German statesmen and forget that there are world questions looming up which cannot be settled without the consent of the

"Home of Character" No. 169 A Dutch Colonial Cottage

By John Henry Newson

This house, six 24x27 feet, will delight you with its graceful, pleasing lines. The type of roof is characteristic of Dutch Colonial work, is economical to build and presents a very pleasing appearance. The exterior of this cottage in this instance is covered with ordinary lap siding, painted white, with the gambrel roof and dormer in green shingles. If the dormer, while interesting as it is shown here, were covered with white siding it would improve appearance of the exterior.

Three rooms and small hall well arranged, as you will notice, occupy the first floor, and three bedrooms and bath the second floor. There is a small attic suitable for storage space. The closets are under the slope of roof and one front bedroom closet has a window.

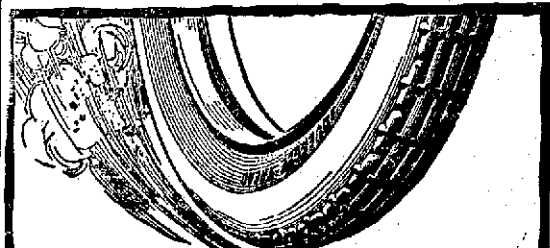

A coat closet off of entry hall is conveniently located, providing space for wardrobe and rubbers. The living room can be increased to twenty-three feet in length if this closet and the partition between hall and living room are omitted.

Extra good lighting, an essential in every kitchen, has been provided through the windows on both sides. Extra large cupboards and sink are also provided. There is also a separate room for the refrigerator and the many other articles which otherwise so frequently clutter up the workroom of the house.

While this Newson design carries out the Dutch Colonial sloping roof, still the bedroom ceilings are all full height.

This house, like our Nos. 164, 165 and 167, which have similar floor plans, is very economical to build. The cost should be between $1800 and $2300, depending on local costs and conditions.

Price of plans only $10.00. Complete specifications $25.00. Inquiries for additional information will be gladly answered without charge if addressed to John Henry Newson, Home of Character Dept., The Times.

Have your tires been 99% satisfactory during the past two years?

If in 1914 and 1915 you have used ten tires and one has "gone bad," you have only been 90% satisfied. If two have "gone bad," your score is reduced to 80%.

In 1914 and 1915, out of every million Diamond Squeegre Tread Tires, 990,000, or 99% have made good.

Was your percentage that high?

If nine friends and yourself had between you, in 1914 and 1915, bought 100 Diamond Squeegres for your cars, but one tire out of the whole lot would have required adjusting.

If it takes you 15 years to use up 100 tires yourself, in all those years only one Diamond Squeegre will cause you any trouble.

These are facts based on the law of averages—upon which billions are invested in the life insurance business.

Start using Diamond Squeegres. You can't beat "99% satisfaction" in the tire business.

CHARGES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The Department of Justice today began its investigation of the published charges by Dr. Gericar, formerly in the Austrian consular service, that Austrian consulates in the United States working under the direction of Consul General Von Nuber and Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, of a propaganda for fomenting strikes in munitions plants. The Austrian embassy denies all Gericar's allegations. The department today was promised documentary evidence in the case.

17 TO EVERY 1,000
CHILDREN BORN IN OHIO LAST YEAR
WERE ILLEGITIMATE

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Seventeen children of each 1,000 born in Ohio last year were illegitimate, according to a report issued by Dr. Morton W. Bland, state registrar of vital statistics. The total number of births was 107,801 and 1,748 of these were illegitimate, making a rate of 1.71 percent of all children born.

Of the total 1,583 were white and 163 colored; 192 were of foreign parents. Geauga was the only county which reported no illegitimate births. Ross' at 30 had the highest rate, 3.76 percent of the children born in that county. Scioto with 17 had a rate of 1.48. Illegitimate children were born to 23 mothers under 15 years of age, one over 45, 38 at the age of 15, 111 at 16; 238 at 18; 188 at 19; 180 at 20; 147 at 21; and 113 at 22.

CHURCHILL RESIGNS
FROM ENGLISH CABINET

London, Nov. 13.—It is officially announced that Winston Spencer Churchill, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, has resigned from the cabinet and will join the army in France.

Mr. Churchill, in his letter of resignation, explains that he agrees in the formation of a small war council, and appreciates the intention which Premier Asquith expressed to include him among his members. But, he concluded, he did not feel like remaining in an office and taking no part in the actual fighting.

Three Railways To Consider Coal Rates

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 13.—Representatives of the Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio railways, will meet at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., November 17, to consider final decision regarding the proposed issuing of higher traffic on western coal hauls from the West Virginia fields. This announcement was made here today by an official of the Norfolk and Western.

MILL IS BLOWN UP

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 13.—A lumber rolling mill in the lower Hagley yard of the Dupont Powder company's plant at Rising Sun, three miles west of this city, blew up last night. No one was hurt, all the employees being out of the mill at the time. The cause of the blast is not known. There were about 300 pounds of powder in the mill when the explosion occurred.

A Londoner was showing some country relative the sights of London one day recently and was pointing out a magnificent old residence, built years ago by a famous and rather unscrupulous lawyer of his time. "And," the Londoner was asked, "was he able to build a house like that by his practice?" "Yes," was the reply, "by his practice and his practices."

parts of the re-occupation of Valandovo by the Bulgarians are declared here to be untrue. The French are said to occupy strongly the region before Valandovo and Labrovo.

The French are reported to have progressed beyond the German, where they were violently, but vainly, counter-attacked.

The books of the Serbian national bank, which had been brought here, were sent yesterday to Monastir, indicating that the latter place no longer is in danger of capture by the Bulgarians.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The following statement was issued by the French war office:

"Artillery battles of unusual violence were reported during the day in Belgium, in the region of Bas, in the Artois district, in the sector of Pesse Calonne," to the north of Somme, near Dompierre between the Meuse and the Moselle and in the redoubt of Apremont. There were no infantry actions."

Berlin, Nov. 13.—(By wireless to Sayville).—Continuing their pursuit of the Serbian army in the district southeast of Krusevac the German forces have crossed the dreary mountain range, according to an official statement given out today by the German army headquarters. More than 1,100 Serbians were made prisoners yesterday and one cannon was captured.

Greetings in China.
The Chinese salutation when friends meet consists in clasping the left hand with the right and waving it up and down, at the same time bowing deeply, or, if unusual respect is wished to be evinced, the Chinaman bows as low as possible, swinging his clasped hands between his legs backward and forward.

Alleyne Hensley, announced in informal written invitations and in society columns of local newspapers as the fiancée of Miss Julia Choate Crumley, music teacher of this city, existed only in her imagination. Not until Miss Crumley had gone to Chicago, identified the body of an unknown man killed in a railroad accident and shipped it here as that of Dr. Hensley did her family and friends suspect any thing unusual.

She is being attended by nerve specialists today at the home of her father, the Rev. Howard L. Crumley.

Contradictory statements made by Miss Crumley after she arrived with the body led close friends of the family to call a physician who had known her for years. It is said today that she stated to him that Dr. Hensley was a creature of her mind, and

Rev. Henry Webb Live Wire Minister

That Rev. Henry Webb, son of Dr. Webb, of this city, is one of the most successful ministers in the Christian church brotherhood, is shown as the result of a remarkable work performed at Covington, Ky., where he is pastor of the First Christian church. One week

Reverend Webb announced that on Sunday, November 7, he expected the congregation to show an attendance of 750, with a contribution of $1,000. Incidentally, he hoped to see fully 500 accessions to the church. When the totals were footed up on the memorable night, the attendance showed 854, the collections more than $1,100.00, and the accessions 58. Rev. Webb, it is understood, wanted the money as a nest egg for the building fund, he having decided to erect an addition to the present plant in which to accommodate his large class of men, which now numbers almost 150.

STARVING IN MIDST OF PLENTY

The rector of All Saints' church has been dealing with some very unusual topics at the Sunday evening services for the past two months, and the topic he will use tomorrow evening presents no exception to this rule.

Rightly or wrongly, men desire something different from the old, tried and dried method of presenting the Gospel truth, and it is in response to this desire for preaching in terms of the present, that the addresses on Vital Topics are being delivered at the old parish church. The attendance at the evening service has been good ever since the commencement of the series and the service is proving especially attractive to men. If cut and dried method of presenting the spirit of fellowship, come to these services, which commence at 7 p. m. and last about one hour.

Do not forget to see the $100,000.00 Diamond display in Jewelers J. F. Carr's window, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 15th and 16th.

MANY BELIEVE YOST'S DAYS AT MICHIGAN NUMBERED

Wolverine Play Falls Off Since Change Of Rules

According to several rumors, football at Michigan may receive the same kind of shakeup as has been staged at Yale and Penn. In other words, the methods of fielding Yost, who has had control of football activities at Ann Arbor since 1901, are beginning to be criticized, and if half of what one hears is true, Michigan is more than apt to have a new coach next season.

Yost for many years the idol of the Michigan undergraduate body, is losing his grip on popularity. He is not considered the same wizard as in the days of old. The Michigan rooters each year raise the cry for another "point a minute" team, but they raise that cry in vain.

Is Yost Unable To Handle New Game?

Is Yost slipping? In the days of long ago Yost was without question the equal of any football coach in the world. The record of the Michigan teams which he coached stand out as proof of his ability. But with the advent of the forward pass Michigan has failed to show the superiority she displayed on the gridiron before the forward pass was a legal play.

Not since the long heaves have been allowed has Michigan won a championship. Not since the forward pass came into vogue has Michigan been able to boast of one season in which she has escaped defeat.

Why is this change? Michigan has been growing all the time and naturally Yost has had just as many to pick from, and his teams are just as big now as when he first took charge of the Wolverines. Is Yost the man whose teams were almost unbreakable in the days of old football, unable to come through with the same kind of success, under the present playing code? Whether he is able to handle the new rules, is not the question, the records show that he has not been successful since the days of the forward pass, and success is the only thing that counts in the coaching game.

Michigan's Record Never Approached

Under the old rules, Yost was invincible. No team ever made a record equal to that of the teams which represented Michigan in 1901-2-3-4-5, teams which Yost coached so successfully that the smaller eleven set up a cry to have the rules changed so that they would have some kind of a chance against the "hosts of Yost."

Even the great record of the Washington eleven cannot be compared to that of Michigan during those five years, for Michigan met all comers, the better they were, the more Michigan liked the fight. And in those five years, pitted against the best in the country, Yost's style of coaching gave Michigan fifty-five victories in fifty-seven games. In one of the two games unaccounted for, Wisconsin tied Michigan, 6 to 6. In the other, Chicago defeated Michigan 2 to 0, on a safety, when a Michigan runner was downed behind his own goal.

In these five years Michigan ran up a grand total of 2,795 points, an average of 49.11-57 points per game, while the sum of the points scored

Yale-Princeton Game Today's Headliner In Football World

New York, Nov. 13.—The Yale-Princeton contest at New Haven today claims chief interest among the day's gridiron battles in the east. Princeton will go on the field a strong favorite over the Blue because of the numerous defeats Yale has suffered this season but the experts figure that there is a chance that Yale's new coaches will uncover unexpected ability.

Michigan plays its last game of the season with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia today and a close struggle is expected. Cornell expects Washington and Lee to put up a hard fight in the battle at Ithaca. Colgate and Syracuse whose victories over teams usually of higher standing has placed them in the front rank this year, play at Syracuse. A close score is looked for in the Harvard-Brown game.

Other games in the east today are:

Maine vs. Army, at West Point.
Colby vs. Navy, at Annapolis.
Amherst vs. Williams, at Williamstown.
Bates vs. Dartmouth, at Hanover.
Dickinson vs. Carlisle, at Carlisle.
Penn State vs. Lafayette, at Euston.
Washington and Jefferson vs. West Virginia Wesleyan, at Clarksburg.
Carnegie vs. Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh.

Looks Like Harvard

There's every chance that the eastern football supremacy will never be definitely settled this season. Of course, should Cornell, Pitt or Colgate escape defeat, while every other team has been licked, there'll be no questioning where the honors go.

And in that event it's to be doubted that the best team has really won the championship. To all intents Harvard is just as good as any other eleven in the east, and this despite the defeat administered by Cornell.

Arrows At Ironton

The New Boston Arrows will play the best team in Ironton Sunday at Beechwood park, Ironton, when they tackle the strong Lombard eleven. The Lombards played the Tigers at Millbrook three weeks ago and were beaten by a score of 36 to 0. The following Sunday morning for practice.

SCOUT BASKET BALL GAMES

The First Presbyterian Church Gym was the scene of two good basket ball games last night. The first game was a lucky victory for the Tigers, who have been showing steady form under Red Hopkins, as foul goals put the score in their favor. Virgin and Edwards, as forwards, put up a fast game for the Tigers, as did Smith and Bryant for the West End. Final score: Tigers 12, West End 11.

Wizard Recalls Famous Game

In a fanning bee Mordecai Brown was asked to tell the best game that he ever pitched.

"There is one game which stands out in my mind above all others. That was in 1908, when we beat the New York Giants in the play-off for the National League pennant. You will remember that I feistered started that game and filled the bases in the first inning. Chance motioned to me to go in, and I got out of the hole with but one run scored against us.

"In the third inning we made four runs of Mathewson. In the seventh inning the Giants started a rally and made one run. The game ended with the score of 4 to 2. "The strain of that game was never equalled by me. Upon it hinged a league championship and the right and honor of play in the world's series. In addition to this, the feeling in New York was at such an extreme pitch that we had received 'Black Hand' letters, which threatened us with our several lives if we took the pennant from New York.

"I don't believe I ever was so alarmed on a diamond as at the conclusion of that game, when the crowd at the Polo grounds practically mobbed us. Chance was hit in the neck and could not speak for several days. Other players were similarly treated. Luckily I escaped."

Chicago Will Use Three Sets Of Backs Against Minnesota Team

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Contests between Chicago and Minnesota at Minneapolis and Wisconsin and Illinois at Champaign, the results of which will have an important bearing on the "Big Nine" football championship, command the interest of western gridiron followers today.

Chicago faces a weight disadvantage in meeting Minnesota, but Coach Stagg will depend on the speed of his back field players, and their ability to execute intricate plays evolved for the contest to bring about victory. Chicago has three sets of backfield men ready for the game. Wisconsin is prepared to put up a hard fight against Illinois in order to remain a factor in the championship race.

Northwestern goes into action against Indiana at Evansston, in a game to determine which team shall finish last in the western conference race. Other games in the west are: Purdue vs. Kentucky at Lexington.

Ohio State vs. Oberlin at Columbus.

Iowa vs. Ames, at Iowa City.

Cregonight vs. Notre Dame at Omaha.

Wittenburg vs. Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

Case vs. Wooster at Wooster.

Western Reserve vs. Mount Union at Cleveland.

Miami vs. Ohio University at Oxford.

Oberlin At Ohio State

Columbus, Nov. 13.—With Oberlin as an opponent, Ohio State will play its last football game of the season on Ohio field today. Unless the visitors show unexpected strength, Coach Wiley will give a number of second string men an opportunity to appear in the lineup.

Final Score: Evangelicals, 25; Covenanters, 13.

Evangelicals Positions: Graf, Bellamy, Gims, R F, Bryant, Monk, Edwards, L F, Davis, Torgess, R G, Wilson, Rogers, L G, Yaplo.

CROSS IRONTON GOAL IN THE FIRST QUARTER

Three minutes after play was started, Shoemaker, left half-back for the Portsmouth high school football team, intercepted an Ironton forward pass on Ironton's 30-yard line, and ran the entire distance for a touchdown. The score at the end of the first half was Portsmouth 6, Ironton 0.

Over 500 fans journeyed out to Millbrook park to see the ancient rivals on the gridiron contest for supremacy, and they were treated to a fine brand of football during the first half. The entire Portsmouth back field acquitted itself splendidly, Wagner intercepting two forward passes for long gains. Captain Davis was the star for Ironton.

The teams lined up as follows:

P. H. S.	I. H. S.
Nutter.....RE	Mittendorf
Dunwell.....RT	Schaeleifer
Lewis.....RG	Layne
Brandell.....C	Haley
Cadman.....LG	Hayes
Quinn.....LT	Fritz

LONDON SEES NEW STYLES IN PAJAMAS; ZEPPELIN SCARES ARE THE REASON

LONDON SEES MANY NEW STYLES IN NIGHTIES AND PAJAMAS NOW THAT THE ZEPPELIN ARE FREQUENT

The Zeppelin scares in London have produced new and interesting styles in slumber wear. Londoners, knowing that they may be called forth into the street at any time of night, are now going to bed properly prepared. Pajamas are having a greater vogue for both men and women, probably because the design of the garment permits a measure of modesty in rapid flight. The old-fashioned "nightie" has been almost altogether abandoned.

Warner Bros. Have Such Faith In This Dyspepsia Remedy That They Guarantee It.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of medicine has been achieved by Warner Bros. The standard dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that Warner Bros. the popular druggists, have had to keep a stock on hand. It is very popular with bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry, or other causes, have found relief in this reliable remedy.

Mif-o-na comes in tablet form and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take, gives quick relief and should help any case, no matter how long a standing. This remedy has been so uniformly successful that Warner Bros. will in the future sell Mif-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money, if it should not prove entirely satisfactory. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large number of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

A Word About Prices

To continue in business long enough to see his guarantee fulfilled, a jeweler must make a living profit. It is our intention to place a legitimate percentage of profit on each thing in our stock.

We do not figure more, and our price is unchangeable.

If you buy a twenty-five year case here, we expect to be here to see the guarantee expire.

Bursting Shells When Villa And Carranza's Forces Staged Fight

William Bennett, who was trapped at the Temple theatre on Eleventh street, when he enlisted writes very interestingly of the battles ranging between Carranza and Villa forces just across the border from Douglas, Arizona, where Bennett is stationed with Company D, Seventh U. S. Infantry. The following is an extract from a letter sent to his grandfather David Bennett on Robinson avenue:

Co. D, 7th Infantry, Douglas, Arizona, Nov. 3 and 4, 1915.

Carranza and Villa had a big fight just across the line last night. They are still fighting. It was awful. I can hardly tell you how I felt. We were under cover part of the time. We were only 700 yards from their firing line. Shells were bursting, bullets were flying all around us. One of our boys was shot through the chest. We heard he died. Another got shot in both legs. I was standing about ten feet from my captain when a bullet struck him. Fortunately it just ripped his overcoat sleeve. A bullet went through one man's hat and into another man's neck. It was quite an ordeal to me. One hit the street and went past me like greased lightning. Believe me, I laid down right then.

The battle started yesterday at noon and it is still raging. I suppose we will have to go down tonight, if they fire any artillery at us. We have 30 big 6-inch guns planted and loaded for bear. Villa has only 3-inch pieces.

Carranza has exploded several big mines and when one goes off you think the end of the world is near.

Soldiers Slept In Alley

We slept in an alley last night. I said slept but we never. We got hot coffee last night and that helped some. It is a wonder more of us were not hit. I never heard such a noise in my life. We were called out to encounter two thousand Yaqui Indians who were coming our way but Carranza beat us to them. They ran into one of his wire entanglements and they were charged with a strong force of electricity and with artillery he made short work of them.

November 4, 1915.

I have just returned from the trenches and will write you all about it. It was awful. Cannon balls were flying, rifle balls buzzing, and shrapnel were bursting. I found a schrapnel shell today. I am going to keep it. We were in the trenches two days and two nights. Night before last the squad I am in was sent out on a Gossack post.

Kept In Touch With The Trenches

There were seven of us. I had to keep in touch with the trench in front. It was about 300 yards in front of us. I had to walk over to it once during the night. About two o'clock in the morning they started heavy firing again. I was sitting on the roof of our little trench we made for seven of us. When a rifle ball went zing buzz over my head I got in under cover right then. In about an hour one of our boys risked his life to bring us some hot coffee. It certainly did go fine. In spite of the danger we were in I had to laugh when the other six came out of the dug-out after the coffee; they looked like rats coming out of a hole, dirty faced and cold. We had our big military overcoats on but still we were very cold. We had to dig our trenches under fire. Then came daylight but it did not stop the battle. We were in position from our trenches to see the battle Villa and his wagon train were going after water. They were about two miles away when Carranza opened fire on him with heavy artillery. We could see the shells bursting among the wagons but Villa did not stop. He came back later and stormed Carranza's trenches but he did not run him from them.

Carranza seems to be getting the best of the fight.

In its report of council proceedings in Irouton last night the Iroutonian of local interest Saturday morning said:

"An ordinance requiring that the street railway company admit passengers at one end of the cars and discharge them at the other was given first reading. Mr. James moved suspension of the rules to place the ordinance on its final passage but received no second."

"An ordinance requiring the street railway company to maintain five watchmen was given first reading. The points at which watchmen would be required are at Elm street crossing, one at each point where the 'Y' crosses Second street and one where the N. & W. crosses South Third street. The ordinance will be up for second reading at next meeting."

"The ordinance for the issuance of $250,000 water works bonds, which had been deferred until after election in hopes that the bond exemption amendment would admit of the sale of bonds at four per cent was taken from the table and given first reading. The ordinance called for twenty-year four and one-half per cent bonds dated December 31, 1915."

The greatest enemy of your teeth

When scientists recently discovered the cause of that dread disease, pyorrhea, they discovered the greatest enemy of your teeth. Why yours? Because the germ that causes this disease inhabits every human mouth.

Your dentist will tell you that half of all the permanent teeth lost are lost from this disease. This is because people have not realized before that everyone should take precautions against this enemy. You can start now to ward off its constant attack and escape the terrible results of this disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesome clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Co., 502 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Pipe Springs Leak, Alarm Is Turned In

An alarm from box 57 at Eleventh and John streets Friday afternoon at 4:11, called the auto truck and Seventh street fire company to Robert Starks' home at 1015 Eleventh street. A pipe in the gasoline stove sprung a leak and ignited when Mrs. Starks started to light one of the burners. The wall paper caught fire and in short order the flames were their way to the attic. Five minutes' work by the firemen extinguished the blaze with but slight damage.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Lesson VII.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 14, 1915.

Text of the Lesson, Dan. 1, 8-20—Memory Verse, 15—Golden Text, 1 Cor. xvi, 13—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stevens.

I am very glad to have the privilege of writing a lesson on Daniel, even though it be what is called a temperance lesson, for we shall find much more in it than appears on the surface. He is mentioned in Ezek. xiv, 14, 20, with Noah and Job as noted for their righteousness. He is mentioned by the Lord Jesus in Matt. xxiv, 15, in connection with the great tribulation at the end of this age immediately preceding the return of the Lord in His glory, to which Daniel also refers in chapters ix, 27; xii, 1. We recently saw a little captive maid glorifying the God of Israel under very trying circumstances, and in this lesson we see four captive young men glorifying the God of Israel under difficulties. The Lord permitted this oppression and captivity because of the sin of Judah and gave Jehoiakim and some of the people of God into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and among the captives were these four young men of royal blood, who were chosen to stand in the king's palace and to be taught the learning and tongue of the Chaldeans that they might stand before the king (verses 3-5).

They were to have a three years' course of preparation for their calling, and as to their food they were nourished from the king's table daily the same meat and wine which he ate and drank. At least that was the provision made for them. It was humiliating for an Israelite to be a captive. It was humiliating to have their beautiful Jewish names, each of which had in them a suggestion of the true God of Jehovah, changed to names suggestive of idols (verses 6, 7). But this they could bear without any sin on their part. Our Lord Jesus Christ Himself was taken prisoner, bound and led by His captors as they pleased. They also called Him a devil and blasphemer and said that He was beside Himself. So in these two particulars they were foreshadowing the sufferings of Christ.

When we suffer in these ways we have fellowship with Him in His sufferings. When it came to eating and drinking, which had been offered to idols Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself, and no doubt he had prayed to his God about this. He asked permission of the prince of the eunuchs that he and his friends might be excused from receiving the food from the king's table and be given very plain fare, which had not passed that way, asking that they might be proved for ten days. The same God who permitted them thus far to suffer for His sake now gave them favor in the sight of this ruler, and he consented to prove them. At the end of ten days they were fatter and fatter in flesh than those who did eat the portion of the king's meat, so it was kept from them, and they were given the plain fare, which had not passed that way, asking that they might be proved for ten days. The same God who permitted them thus far to suffer for His sake now gave them favor in the sight of this ruler, and he consented to prove them. At the end of ten days they were fatter and fatter in flesh than those who did eat the portion of the king's meat, so it was kept from them, and they were given the plain fare, which had not passed that way, asking that they might be proved for ten days.

Poor Peoples Day To Be Observed

Tomorrow will be observed at Wesley Hall as Poor Peoples Day. This will be a great day of worship at the Mission Sabbath school at 2 p. m., preaching at 3 p. m., preaching at 7 p. m. The public is invited, but we especially invite the poor. Come as you are. If clothes are soiled and tattered come as you are. Don't stay out on account of poverty, but come bring your friends. This is a special call to the poor to come. If you are a sinner come. You will feel at home at Wesley Hall, the church for sinners, who want to be good. Come and meet the friend of sinners. He is to be found there, 512 Second street. J. E. DIEBERT.

Travel Talks On Palestine At Trinity

On next Sunday evening, November 14 the first of a series of four travel talks on Palestine will be given by the pastor of Trinity church, Gallia and Offshore streets. The Holy Land has a peculiar charm for all christian people because it is the land of the Christ. Come with us and let us follow again the footsteps of this son of man as he journeyed to and fro over the hills of Judea and Galilee. The series will be as follows:
November 14 — "The Holy City." Musical Prelude, the Sunday school orchestra. Baritone solo, "The Holy City," Stephen Adams, Mr. John N. Davis.
November 21 — "In Old Judea," musical prelude by the chorus choir.
November 28 — "Camping on the Trail of Jesus." Violin and Saxophone Duo, Miss Alice Blake, Mr. Carl Kugelman.
December 5 — "Around Lake Beautiful." Musical Prelude, organ, piano and violins. Mrs. S. R. Crawford, Mrs. Charles Hard, Miss Ruth Crawford.
Come and spend a happy hour among friendly folks. Trinity is a home-like church. You will be most welcome. The time is seven o'clock.

Musical Evening At First Presbyterian

Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church a special musical program of unusual interest will be given. The newly organized Men's Choir will give a special number, and the church quartet, consisting of Mr. Fred

THE BROTHERHOOD

The Brotherhood Class of All Saints' church will make a study of the patriotism of Elisha at tomorrow's session. The lesson will discuss the fact that God can be truly served by service rendered to the state. This lesson will prove most interesting and timely, dealing as it does with the question of religious patriotism. The scripture to be read in preparation is 2nd Kings, chapters 4 and 7, and 14th to verse 21. The class meets at 9 a. m. every Sunday in the rector's office on Fourth street next the chapel.

IN FINE CONDITION

This week's issue of the War Cry, the official organ of the Salvation Army, contains an interesting reference to the Portsmouth corps in the Col. Margott Travel column.

Harry Edwards At Bigelow Tomorrow

Arrangements have been under way for the past few days to have a record attendance at the men's classes at Bigelow on Sunday morning when Harry Edwards will give a talk to the adult classes of this church. Over two hundred invitation cards have been sent out by the committee in charge of this meeting. Mr. Edwards will take the international lesson character—Daniel, as his subject.

HOW'S THIS FOR HIGH?

The late Phil. G. Lorey, when engaged in the stove business on West Second Street, in the year 1892, sold a MODEL STEEL COAL RANGE, made by THE PORTSMOUTH STOVE & RANGE CO., to a well known Portsmouth family. This range has been used continually since that time with a total cost of repairs, not to exceed $11.50. They originally paid $45.00 for this MODEL RANGE. Adding the $11.50 for repairs, makes a total cost of $56.50 for TWENTY-THREE YEARS SERVICE. The range is still good and will be used for a number of years longer. But should it be worn out now, the cost per year was $2.46, or less than ONE CENT A DAY. Now about that cheap tin-can range you buy for about this same price that rusts out in a few years? Don't you think it better to buy a good, home-made MODEL RANGE? There is only one trouble with our goods—They're made too good—for our benefit but not your's. We make MODEL-EQUIITY ranges better today than we did 25 years ago. THE PORTSMOUTH STOVE & RANGE CO.

They also sold to J. D. Morris lot No. 2 in Gordon City, Timmonds and Musser's addition above Wheelersburg.
They sold to Jordan and Torrey, Anna Scott's two story six room frame house at 2017 Seventeenth street.
They also sold to John Salimanski three lots in Idlewild addition and in turn sold to Jordan and Torrey, John Salimanski's five room cottage at 1916 Grandview avenue.

THE GOOD THAT MAN DOES LIVES AFTER HIM

People who are run down in health, under weight, and who are subject to catarrh and rheumatism, are the quickest to notice the ill effect of the dump, cool fall days.
The value of an increase of a few pounds in weight, with the increased bodily vigor, that may serve to withstand the sudden climatic changes, can not be gauged by dollars and cents.
"I just thought," said Mrs. J. D. Brooks, of 1321 Summit St., Portsmouth, "that I might do some good by telling the public about my husband's experience with 'The Master Medicine'." I persuaded him to try Tanlac for stomach trouble, and it has worked like a charm. His trouble was continual belching and gas on his stomach after meals, which troubles have disappeared and he is able now to eat most anything, especially cabbage. This medicine has also acted as an excellent tonic for him. We are glad to recommend Tanlac."

Catarrh of the stomach is the most prevalent of diseases in this section of the country. This trouble affecting the mucus membrane of the stomach as it does, makes it impossible for the victim to assimilate a sufficient amount of food to properly nourish the body, which fact accounts for loss in weight and in strength.
Tanlac, the new medicine which is an extract of herbs, roots and flowers, is through its wonderful tonic effect, and system cleansing properties, nature's greatest assistant.
In instances of catarrh of the mucus membranes, stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal disorders, and rheumatic conditions, Tanlac acts like magic in assisting to restore good health.
Tanlac is popularly known as the "Master Medicine," and is now on sale in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, corner Sixth and Chillicothe Sts. Adv.

$80.25 WAS SPENT TO DEFEAT SUNDAY MOVIES

The joint committee from the churches and the Ministerial Association spent $80.25 to defeat the Sunday motion picture ordinance, according to the statement filed by the treasurer, W. B. Anderson, late Friday evening. The entire amount was spent for printing and advertising as follows: Kall-Patterson company, $5; Times Publishing company, $60; Star Publishing company, $15.25.

Wise Women

Saving money is wisdom applied to practice—the cautious move that prevents poverty and dissipates fear as old age creeps on. And women—keen of perception—accept the savings habit as a self imposed task. That perhaps, is why so many of our regular depositors are women—wise women—drawing 4 per cent interest per annum on their safely saved funds.

Did you ever stop to think about the high class motion pictures that are now being shown in the "Movie" theatres of Portsmouth?

Did you ever notice the picture advertisements in the big city papers, and then in a few days you see these same big feature picture productions advertised in our own papers as coming next week to one of our own picture theatres?

The picture theatre managers of Portsmouth certainly deserve loyal support and patronage on the high class picture programs they are offering every day in the week. Just look at this program at the Columbia for next week: On Monday, Theda Bara in "Sin" is considered one of the best of the famous Fox pictures. Tuesday brings "The Explorer," a Paramount production featuring Lou Tellegen, an international star, who at the age of 20 was leading man for Mlle. Sarah Bernhardt.

"The Chalice of Courage" on Wednesday has the personal endorsement of Manager Tynes, who saw this picture at the Lyric theatre in Cincinnati and pronounced it the best picture entertainment he has ever seen.

"Under Southern Skies" on Thursday featuring Mary Fuller is a most beautiful five reel picture and is sure to please the most critical audience.

At the request of many of the patrons of the Columbia, a return engagement of "Graustark" has been arranged for next Friday, and you will have another opportunity to see this wonderful picture for 10 cents either afternoon or evening. On Saturday "The Toast of Death," a romantic story of India, is one of the picture sensations of the year, and has aroused much comment wherever shown.

Farmer and Holman, popular managers of the Majestic picture house on Second street offer the following program to their patrons for next week:

Monday: "A Divine Decree," "A Massive Movie Mermaid," and "For His Pal."

Tuesday: "The Leap For Life," "Green Apples," and Mutual Weekly No. 29.

Wednesday: "Reincarnation," "Making Matters Worse" and "A Question of Honor."

Thursday: "Man and the Law," "Biddy Bradys Birthday," and "From the River's Depths."

Friday: "No One to Guide Him," "Hidden Crime," and "Spirit of Adventure."

Saturday: "The Father," "A Bully Affair" and "She Thought She Could."

Day, and were donated to the bazaar by Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne. The dolls were sold at auction and the money donated to the charity.

Stars On Broadway Works In Film Play

Emily Stevens, the talented niece of Mrs. Mennie Madder Kiske, who is now starring in "The Unchastened Woman," the most successful current play on Broadway, has begun work on the stellar role in "The House of Tears," a big Rolie-Metro feature picture now in production.

This new photodrama affords Miss Stevens unlimited opportunity to display her distinctive histrionic ability and genius.

The theme of "The House of Tears" is strikingly novel in conception and the superb emotional actress will be seen in two distinct roles, that of a girl of 22 and a woman of 60 years old.

Chaplin Will Have New Role

The next great Essanay Chaplin comedy, which will be in two acts and will be released shortly, is "A Night in the Show." In this film, Charles Chaplin appears in a new and funnier-than-ever role.

Chaplin dons his comical "old clothes" costume for a full dress suit. His footwork and all his comic capers are the same, stamping his individuality and not the clothes, as the attraction that endears him to the photoplay public.

SCREEN STARS SOLD AT AUCTION

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the Quality-Metro stars, were sold under the hammer at the recent Charity Bazaar for the benefit of the Oakland Baby Hospital, Oakland, Cal., when these two favorites of the screen appeared in miniature "all dolled up."

Two dolls representing Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne, were dressed in regal robes, reproduced from the costumes the stars wore when they were recently crowned king and queen of Screenland at the San Diego Exposition on Motion Picture.

The Movies

At the Lyric Monday Miss Blanche Sweet makes her reappearance in "The Secret Orchard," that tense photodrama from the play of Channing Pollock. This is undoubtedly Miss Sweet's greatest picture to date, she has a part teeming with love, tragic realities and human pathos.

Tonight is your last change and above all things don't lose out and miss seeing the Ted Dalley Stock company in that great play "The Cast of Living." The plot of the play is clever, dealing as it does with one of America's greatest problems and bringing its arguments forth in such a forceful manner that holds you riveted from the rise to the final fall of the curtain on the fourth act.

Commencing Monday evening an entirely different style of a drama from any heretofore produced will be staged and the amusement loving public will have a chance to applaud and enthuse in the good old fashioned way. A magnificent revival of Harry Clay Blaney's production "Across the Border" will be made and the public will have a glimpse of war stricken Mexico and its inhabitants. The action of the play takes place in Mexico and the characters are soldiers from Fort Hancock, Yaqui Indians, Mexicans and Senecas.

Scientifically speaking, this is the heaviest production up-to-date, and the carpenters and painters are working night and day to have it ready for the Monday night opening.

Interest in the great "Broken Coin" pictures is growing by leaps and bounds at the Strand and the great crowds who see the picture every Saturday night are the best pleased people in the East End.

Tonight "The Underground Fox," fifth number, is the most exciting adventure ever shown on a screen.

The second feature will reveal that great screen star, J. Warren Kerrigan, in "A Shriek In the Night."

This wonderful drama was written and produced by Mr. Kerrigan himself and gives him great latitude to display his wonderful ability as an actor.

The big program comes to an end with a war when "Their Happy Homecoming" Nestor comedy, with Eddie Lyons, Dolly Omet, Lou Moran and Carven Phillips thrown on the screen.

PICTURE DEPICTS BREAKING OF DAM

One of the most thrilling and realistic scenes ever screened is presented in the Mutual Masterpicture, "The End of the Road," depicting the breaking of the dam which sweeps away a picturesque old mill in the forest.

This piece of realism is planned and handled in a masterly manner by Director Thomas Ricketts. The mill is located at the bend of a stream a hundred feet below the big dam built for this scene.

DRYS FOR 1916 FIGHT; WILL KEEP UP BATTLE

With every precinct in the city and county represented and showing a determination to continue a wet and dry fight in Scioto county or Ohio, the Scioto County Dry Federation was made a permanent organization at a rousing big meeting held at the United Brethren church Saturday afternoon.

A resolution to this effect was unanimously passed and C. M. Weyand will continue in charge of the affairs of the federation and will have permanent headquarters in the First National Bank building.

The Scioto County Dry Federation stands ready to take part in another fight for state-wide prohibition in Ohio in 1916, and a resolution expressing this sentiment was passed without a dissenting vote. This organization is probably the first one in Ohio to take definite action on the question of whether the drys would call another election in 1916.

A resolution to retain the present list of officers was also unanimously passed. John T. Breese is president of the organization; Irving Drew, vice-president; C. C. Bridwell, treasurer; and C. M. Weyand, secretary.

Every delegate present was called on for a talk and responded, each feeling elated over the dry gains made in the recent election.

Harry Edwards and A. A. Onkes, of the W. P. P. A., were present and stated that this organization was ready to take an active part in any wet and dry election that would be called. The W. P. P. A. will also have permanent headquarters in the First National Bank building.

YALE BOWL

First period: Princeton, 0. Yale

Honors were even between Yale and Princeton at the end of the first period. Both teams had shown a strong defense and fumbling on either side had given each chance for field goals on their opponents' 15 yard line. Neither Quernsey for Yale nor Tibbot for Princeton could make the score.

Score at the end of the second period: Princeton 7; Yale, 6.

All through the first thirty minutes of play it was a battle between a well coached Princeton team of medium ability and a powerful Yale combination which showed a great offensive and defensive strength but lacked both the fundamentals and finish of football to score in proportion to its worth. Old Eli by brute strength hammered and slashed their way through the Orange and Black team repeatedly but as in previous games this season, lacked the team scoring punch when the goal line was within sight. In these emergencies full-back Guernsey arose to the occasion and by his brilliant drop kicking kept the Blue still in the battle. Had the other members of the Yale team performed their respective duties as well, Princeton would have left the field at the end of the first half without a score. The Yale tackling was wretched. The Eli time after time gripped the Princeton runner around the neck and it was this fault that was directly responsible for the Tiger touchdown.

On the fourth down Princeton made a forward pass which was caught by an orange-striped forward who needed to make five yards for a first down.

Two Yale tacklers grabbed him around the neck but in each case he ducked free and when he was finally brought to the ground had made the first down which paved the way for a touchdown. Princeton's sturdy stand on her last line. A surprising feature of the period was the fact that Quarterback Van Nostrand out generated his rival, Captain Glick. The Yale players were selected with far better judgment and, considering the gridiron education of the blue, brought better results in the long run than the Princeton strategy. Guernsey more than held his own with Tibbot in the exchange of punts and his field goals earned him a niche in the football hall of fame, reserved for the famous drop kickers of all time. After singing by both sides the two teams came on to the field for their final struggle. Princeton laid the kick off.

Yale regained her lead over Princeton at the start of the third period. Guernsey kicked on the first down and Tibbot muffed the ball on his 25 yard line. Way was on the job and scooping up the ball for the Tiger touchdown.

FIFTY SPEAKERS AT FARM CONFERENCE

Left to right, top, Henry Wallace and Charles J. Brand; bottom, Frank L. McVey and Governor Walsh.

Fifty speakers of national and international note will be heard at the third national conference on marketing and farm credits at Chicago, Nov. 20-Dec. 3. Among them will be Charles J. Brand, chief of the bureau of markets of the U. S. bureau of agriculture; Governor Walsh of Massachusetts; Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Ia., publisher of a farm journal, and Frank L. McVey, president of the University of North Dakota, who will be chairman of the conference.

ball for the Tiger touchdown.

On the fourth down Princeton made a forward pass which was caught by an orange-striped forward who needed to make five yards for a first down.

Two Yale tacklers grabbed him around the neck but in each case he ducked free and when he was finally brought to the ground had made the first down which paved the way for a touchdown. Princeton's sturdy stand on her last line. A surprising feature of the period was the fact that Quarterback Van Nostrand out generated his rival, Captain Glick. The Yale players were selected with far better judgment and, considering the gridiron education of the blue, brought better results in the long run than the Princeton strategy. Guernsey more than held his own with Tibbot in the exchange of punts and his field goals earned him a niche in the football hall of fame, reserved for the famous drop kickers of all time. After singing by both sides the two teams came on to the field for their final struggle. Princeton laid the kick off.

Yale regained her lead over Princeton at the start of the third period. Guernsey kicked on the first down and Tibbot muffed the ball on his 25 yard line. Way was on the job and scooping up the

SCIOTO TRAIL OPEN

The Scioto Trail was opened to the public for travel Friday evening at six o'clock, the permanent improvement having been entirely completed. The Trail is now permanently improved for seven miles north of the city, four miles of brick paving and three miles of concrete.

Lemons To "Lemon" In Working Trick

A ruse, resorted to by a man, giving the name of Dick Lemons, enabled him to escape from a man who expected to take him back to Marysville, Ky., and deliver him up to authorities there Saturday.

Lemons had been arrested by the local police Friday evening on a warrant sworn to by W. C. Vance, proprietor of the Farmers' hotel at Marysville, charging him with stealing a watch, ring and meat chopper. Vance came up later on a train, and after paying all of the court costs and redeeming his property, which Lemons had pawned, secured his release from custody and accompanied him to Cook's hotel, in Tenth street, where Lemons and wife had been stopping. He spent the night there and early Saturday expected to take Lemons back to Marysville. Lemons pleaded that he was sorely in need of a stimulant, and Vance, good-fellow like, handed him a dime. Lemons entered a nearby saloon and that was the last seen of him. It is thought he escaped through a rear doorway. Vance told the police officials later that he did not care much about the fellow's flight, inasmuch as he had recovered the stolen articles.

JOINS RANKS OF THE "NEVER-SWEATS"

The Portsmouth Stove and Range company are making a gas heater that they guarantee will not cause dampness on the walls of a room, nor give the persons in the room a headache. They are very low priced, and very substantially made—no thin flues to rust out. Has a cast iron baffle plate over the fire, body made of heavy polished sheet iron. Large, solid-cored cast iron burners. Made in five sizes, two finished—plain and nickel—size and finish to suit every person and every pocketbook. They're Made In Portsmouth, and The PORTSMOUTH STOVE AND RANGE COMPANY stand back of them absolutely. When you buy your gas heater see that your dealer shows you the STAR-EQUITY or the SOLAR-EQUITY.

IN U. S. SERVICE 25 YEARS

Portsmouth now boasts of two letter carriers who have seen twenty-five years of continuous service for Uncle Sam. This morning, Samuel McPherson and Leroy Johnson, the two veterans on the local staff of mail carriers, received silver stars in recognition of their quarter of a century of active service for the government. The stars will in the future adorn the sleeves of their uniforms.

GOOSE CREEK

The application of Otto Shaefer was approved at the regular semi-monthly meeting of Empire Grange No. 1228 last Saturday evening. Mr. Shaefer will be initiated with several other candidates at a subsequent meeting. Nomination and election of new officers for the coming year will be held at the next regular business session one week from next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Besco, who recently moved into their new eight-room residence on Lick Run, entertained a large number of friends at their home last Sunday. At noon covers were laid for fourteen guests, who remained until a late hour, all having greatly enjoyed the day. A delightful day was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Turner, at Dixon's Mill, Sunday, Nov. 7th, when they entertained with a family dinner the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schneider and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bihl and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Simon and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Simon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bihl and family, Frank and John Bihl and Wm. Thicken.

Jacob Newland, who left this locality for the West about a quarter of a century ago, is back for an extended visit to old acquaintances. Miss Clara Thompson will entertain a number of young folks next Saturday evening in honor of her twentieth birthday anniversary. The evening's pleasures will be followed by a family feast, and all invited anticipate an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Oakes pleasantly entertained a party of relatives and friends last Sunday, who motored to their home for the day. An elegant feast was served at the noon hour and all enjoyed the stay very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. V. Hook and family drove to New Boston Sunday where they spent the day as guests of relatives. The trip was made in the Hook runabout.

Empire Grange members are making preparations for their annual Thanksgiving orator supper to be given Wednesday evening, Nov. 24, at the hall. A large crowd and a general good time can be expected, as all are cordially invited.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bessie Hall

Some strange circumstances surround the death at Hempstead hospital Saturday morning at two o'clock of Mrs. Bessie Hall, aged 20 years of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Hall was admitted to the hospital last Sunday as a county charge. She had been working in a restaurant at New Boston and boarded with a family at Lakeside Dr. W. W. Smith, county physician, informed her some days ago that her condition was grave and that she was likely to die, asking her if she had any relatives she wished notified. She said her mother lived at Lancaster. Later the people with whom she boarded found out that her mother instead lived at New Straitsville, O. They sent her a telegram and she is now thought to be on her way to Portsmouth. Dr. Smith also learned through others that the young woman was married and that her husband was supposed to be in Virginia seeking work. She is said to have left him at Lancaster recently. Asked why she had concealed this from the hospital authorities she made some passing excuse and appeared indifferent to her fate.

The body was turned over to County Undertaker Dice and will be held pending the mother's arrival.

Denver E. Millirons

In loving memory of little Denver E., son of Mrs. Grace Millirons, of 1530 Twelfth street, Portsmouth, O. Born July 25th, 1913, departed this life Nov. 6, 1915, aged 2 years. The flower of the home, Denver Earl budged on earth, but bloomed in Heaven. There are many relatives and friends to mourn the loss of a dear baby.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber. Thou no more will join our number. Thou no more our sorrows know. Yet again we hope to meet thee. When the day of life is fled, And in Heaven with joy to greet thee.

Where no farrow tears are shed, In life we loved you dearly, In death we do the same. We often sit and think of you. When you are all alone. For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own.

Mrs. Mary Foster

After a short illness with pneumonia Mrs. Mary Foster passed away Friday at her home in Sulphur near Sandy Springs. She was the widow of the late Capt. M. W. Foster, who passed away five years ago. The following children survive: Scott M., of Vancuburg, Wheeler of Sandy Springs, James, who is in Kansas, Mrs. Allie Haines of Sandy Springs, Angelo of Rome, Nathan at home and Grizzell of Sandy Springs. Mrs. Foster had been married 52 years and she was a most estimable woman, her life being replete with acts of kindness.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon and interment will be made at Sandy Springs.

Benjamin Franklin Holmes

Benjamin Franklin Holmes was born at Bloom Furnace, Scioto county, O., October 26, 1857, and died November 4, 1915, at 2 a. m., at his home near Hales Creek, O. His father's name was Warren Holmes and his mother's maiden name was Phyllis Harper.

He was converted at the age of 19, baptized by Rev. G. W. Lloyd, and became a member of the Baptist church. He was superintendent of the Roseport Baptist Sunday school for the last four years.

January 4, 1883, he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Emma B. Tracy, daughter of Rev. J. B. Tracy. To this union twelve children were born, three of whom preceded the father to the Great Beyond. Charles died October 15, 1895; Rena, July 26, 1912; Eugene, November 2, 1912. The children left are: Uri, Newell and Henry at home; Sennett, Mrs. George Egbert and Mrs. V. V. Donley, at Portsmouth; Lois and Bernice at home; and Gussie, a teacher in the New Boston schools. To father and two brothers are also left to mourn his loss. There are four grand-children living.

For many years Mr. Holmes was well and widely known as one of the best heavy construction carpenters in this section of the country.

For the last few years he has been giving his attention to farming, in which he has been equally successful.

As a man, Mr. Holmes was a person of very strong convictions, always with the courage to stand for them. His strong will and firm determination at times doubtless cost him some friends, but his courage was such that to think a cause was right was to stand and fight for it, if necessary, regardless of the cost.

Most men are disposed to follow, and few to lead; such courage as his was rare and the kind that has made men great.

No person could malign a friend of his in his presence with impunity. To his friends he was as true as steel, and friendship with him was far more than a name.

Mr. Holmes was a member of the Knights of Pythias, being a charter member of South Webster Lodge No. 721. In this lodge he was honored for being elected to positions of dignity and honor. He was also a member of the Oak Hill lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. With him Masonry was as near a religion

Mrs. Kline Funeral

The funeral of Miss Susan Kline of Lucasville, was held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Hettie Kline with Rev. Pletsmyer in charge. The choir of the Lucasville M. E. church sang several beautiful selections. The relatives present to mourn the death were Henry Kline of Chicago, Miss Hettie and John Kline of Lucasville and Mrs. William Riley of Marion.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon and interment will be made at Sandy Springs.

THE TOLL OF CARELESSNESS.

Perhaps, automobile accidents were not more numerous last Sunday than on any other first day of the week, since the new method of locomotion has become general, but certainly not on any one other were so many killed and injured.

The telegraph reports show far more than a half hundred people figuring in mishaps of various degrees, and, doubtless there were that many more which did not get onto the wires. With the exception of two, all were the result of a lack of proper prudence, the most common being no precaution taken in approaching railroad crossings and high speeding.

We believe the auto craze is about spent, that is the speed mania has about run its course. Yet, it is undeniable there is still too much "hitting her up" at that. There is yet, however, too fast going where the person at the wheel is not familiar with the highway being traversed and so he often finds himself unprepared for the peril that confronts him. If every driver would bring his car under complete control before reaching a track, rounding a sharp curve, or when prevented by some obstruction from seeing what may lie a short distance beyond, ninety-nine per cent of serious accidents now occurring could and would be avoided. For generally automobile making has now reached such safety, that seldom, indeed, does mishap come through the developing of some defect in the machine itself.

EVERYBODY DELIGHTED.

There never was a candidacy received with such universal acceptance as that which Frank B. Willis, alias our good young Governor, has announced for re-election. The Republicans are relieved of a thousand times worse dilemma than had he carried to a climax his absurd delusion of going after the presidency, the Glue Democrats accept it as the only possible means of them getting the crumbs that fall from the table and Democrats are delirious with approval because in the Big Fellow they see their next.

Saying Republicans accept the candidacy in lieu of something worse, a contest for national delegates, where many wouldn't know where to jump and the impossible Jack Arnold, is not stating they are near to bursting with satisfaction. To the contrary, they are sore and despondent. Many let their endorsement go no further than approval of his withdrawal from contest for a higher office, and they, knowing the general dissatisfaction with which he has filled both people and partisans with his conduct of the governorship, believe he is in for a most thorough trouncing.

There isn't call to give the reasons why these conditions have arisen, what Willis has done and not done, the voters are just simply disgusted with him as the head of the government of this state and there is neither need, nor profit to argue to or against that. He is doomed and that is all.

SAVE THE LEAVES.

Along about this time every year, the people who know, make appeals to the people who do not know to save the old leaves—in the interest of economy. Certainly they should not be burned; they are too valuable to be wasted in that manner. But that is the favorite method of dealing with them here in the city, for the reason that so many people are not prepared to take care of the leaves in any other manner.

The proper way to take care of the leaves would be to store them in tanks, or holes in the earth, or boxes, and leave them exposed to the weather, stirring them up occasionally all winter so they will be thoroughly decomposed by spring. Then they should be returned to the soil of the garden or the flower beds or the lawn. Handled in this way they become a valuable fertilizer—nature's own way, in fact, of maintaining the soil.

And nature does things in the right way. It is not until man comes along and robs the soil that the earth refuses to respond to the cries of the bustling seed. Nature takes from the soil to build the leaves, but she sees to it that the leaves return to the soil if she has her way, and man ought to follow nature as closely as possible, and allow the leaves to return to the soil whenever it is possible to do so.—Dayton News.

The announcement of Hon. Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, that he will not be a candidate for the nomination for United States senator, will be received with genuine regret by his Republican friends and also by hosts of Democrats, who, while differing from him on matters of principle, admired the man for his courage and honesty and good qualities generally. If by the fortune of politics, we are to have a Republican senator to succeed Senator Pomerehne, we do not know of a man in Ohio who would better fill the bill or more ably and truly represent Ohio than Mr. Cole.

We have our moments of depression when our first impulse is resignedly to ask any businesslike stranger who drops in at these elegantly appointed offices to come to the point at once and state in a few concise words what he's mad at us about.—Ohio State Journal.

How those who have undergone operations must envy Irv. Cobb. Mr. Cobb was permitted to talk about his operation to the extent of 6000 words without being interrupted by a competing conversationalist.—Topeka Capital.

"Dar's a silver linin' to every cloud," said Uncle Eben; "but sometimes it's foolish to stand around lookin' fur it, 's'aid o' h'is'n' an umbrella."—Washington Star.

IN PIKE COUNTY.

Commenting upon the Ohio State Journal editorial upon the Scioto Valley, recently quoted in The Times, the Gallipolis Tribune observes:

"Perhaps the remarks above apply to all the region covered except Pike county. We have read so many articles in Pike county newspapers impeaching the honesty, decency and general integrity of her citizens that we cannot but wonder what sort of men they really are down there. We know a few men in that county who stand high in our respect, but some of them are awful characters if what is said of them in their home papers is even approximately true. The kind of political wars they have in Pike almost make a man lose hope in the redemption of the race."

Of course the intemperate tone of the Pike county newspapers may convey the impression alluded to, and it is a matter of regret to the friends of those interested that it is so. As a matter of fact there are just as fine people in Pike county as there are anywhere else on earth, and the men engaged in the bitter newspaper and political warfare are not different from the average elsewhere. There has gradually grown up a condition of affairs however, in which it seems that no question of public moment can be discussed without resort to the strongest language and the harshest of terms in alluding to the character or motives of those actively prominent. It is a bad condition and it reacts upon all residents of the county, as is shown by the editorial in Mr. Sibley's paper. We feel sure that our friends in Pike county will all be happier and better; that they will accomplish more, if they will recognize the above fact, and decide to conduct their warfare on different lines in the future.

OTHERS JUST AS BAD.

In a short time the disfranchising sentences of various Adams county citizens will have expired and the vote of that county restored to normal conditions. It is more than probable that elections in Adams will be purer and better than they were before the famous Blair probe, but it is equally true that they have been, and will continue to be better in other counties. As a matter of fact Adams was no worse than a dozen or more counties in the state. Vote buying and selling was a general practice all over the state and it had come to such a pass that it was not regarded as a crime. For that reason we have always felt sorry for Adams county. She got a reputation for corruption and a notoriety that was most unfortunate while many of her neighbors, equally guilty, made haste to secretly clean their own doorsteps and then sat back in professed horror at Adams. We believe that as time goes on the nation at large will come to have a juster and fairer conception of the Adams county election cases and conditions in general and that there will be a much better feeling in reference to the whole matter.

Congressman Kearns, after having done his best to kick Scioto county out of his district, has executed a double somersault and tries to win back the love which he had spurned by rushing over here and picking out a Scioto county citizen as his secretary. It had been generally understood that Mr. Kearns had turned down applicants from this county and had named a Clermont county person as his secretary. This was, however, before the Sprague law rejection. That caused our congressman to see a great light and the result is that young Mr. Bauer will travel to Washington in the congressman's suite. The selection is a good one, the recipient of the favor being a very capable and clever young man. We rather think however that our astute congressman was a little slow in extending his favors. That which would have been good politics six months ago is too apparently a panic-stricken afterthought today.

What is puzzling us is who climbed on the Daugherty band wagon first, Bannon or Hard? Mr. Bannon got his announcement in the papers first, beating Mr. Hard to by a whole 24 hours. The question is, did Hard hop in after seeing Bannon crowding up front, or did Bannon learn that Hard was going about the stunt with deliberation and made haste to beat him to it?

Someway it seems to us that just when we are getting to the point where we can see daylight ahead and figure on making a little real genuine money the growth of business necessitates the spending of everything in sight for additional equipment. Still, we suppose that is much more desirable situation than to be standing still or going backward.

A MAN'S DOG.

If you have ever known and loved a dog you will enjoy a "Point of View," in the Christmas Scribner, on "Some Dogs." "I have no dog now, but I sometimes pretend I have. It is an easy thing to pretend. I imagine him lying before the fire, close beside me so that I can put out my foot to nudge his hairy back. He understands that I am telling him I love him. I think of him as waiting—a gentle, pensive spire—how patiently he endures that fearful erosion of time, an interval. I see him on a tramp—a joyous series of important explorations of the trivial. There is a frenzy of joy on his long, galloping dashes in open country; his perpetual "skinning under" fences, his sudden pursuits of a slow-rising bird. He reveals an ecstatic vigor even in the hitting of a burr from his tail. But, most of all, I love him when from the midst of these alarms and excursions, in red-tongued happiness, he comes racing back—to me."

The statement of Hon. Chas. E. Hard that one of the Sixth district delegates to the Republican national convention should come from Scioto county and that "it will be some one whom the Republican organization and committee-men can support," sounds to a man up a tree as a polite intimation that the Hon. Henry T. Bannon will have a fight on his hands if he persists in his stand on being a candidate for delegate. If Mr. Bannon does refuse to be scared off, there will be some fight, believe us fellow countrymen, and the man who has the "support of the organization" will surely know that he has had a scrap.

ADD TO OUR EQUIPMENT.

In order to take care of business it has become necessary for The Times to increase the facilities of its composing department, and an order has been placed for a new typesetting machine. This machine should be in operation within two weeks and it represents the latest achievement of the company which manufactures it, the International Typesetting Company. The new machine will be equipped with type magazines of varying sizes that will enable The Times to give its advertisers practically any size of type they may desire, in the composition of their advertisements from six point to 30 point. The purchase of the new Intertype machine will give The Times five machines, and with the early addition of some other needed equipment will give us as complete an office as can be found anywhere in a small city.

Hydrophobia In Ohio

Since the first of January, 1915, the laboratory of the State Board of Health has examined 189 brains of animals thought to have rabies. During the same period, the laboratory of the Cincinnati Department of Health has examined twenty-four.

In one hundred and fifteen of the state examinations and fourteen of the Cincinnati examinations, the suspicion was confirmed, showing that the disease is widespread in Ohio.

Three of the Cincinnati examinations were the brains of milk cows that died after developing the furious form of the disease.

Throughout the state, five cases have been reported in human beings during the year and, as the disease invariably results fatally, it is safe to assume that five unfortunate souls solved the great problem through this most terrible form of death. During the last month six people in Hamilton county have been bitten by rabid dogs and are now going through the Pasteur treatment.

During the past five years, three deaths have occurred in Cincinnati from rabies, two coming to our hospitals for treatment after the disease developed and the other being a local resident.

It is difficult to understand the apathy of the general public on the question of the control of the dog population. Valuable livestock can be destroyed, helpless children torn to ribbons and others subjected to the most terrible death known, and any attempt made to enforce the muzzling laws arouses a storm of protest wherever tried.

There are two varieties of dogs in every community: those that are owned, and vagrants.

The vagrant or tramp dog bears the same relationship to the dog population that human tramps do to society at large. They are the chief source of rabies infection and the active spreaders of the disease to other valuable animals including dogs.

It is perfectly apparent that a muzzling ordinance cannot be enforced against an ownerless dog. The tax-paid dog wearing a muzzle becomes "easy picking" for the unmuzzled, unowned, vagrant cur. Twelve months enforcement of the muzzling laws against all dogs would eradicate rabies in this country. Its enforcement against owned dogs only would have no other effect than to place them at the mercy of the unowned, tax free canine.

The present state of affairs is indefensible from any point of view. As long as it continued, the daily press will continue to give space to damage done to children and live stock, and parents will be compelled to go through the agony of waiting to see whether or not a dog bite will or will not be followed by hydrophobia.

A law to be effective must have teeth. Owned dogs should be muzzled or kept in leash. Those without muzzles or other forms of control should be considered tramps and be killed.

Several years ago, Charlevoix, Michigan, demonstrated that the dog question can be handled on the theory of muzzles for owned dogs, shot guns for tramp dogs. Worked out along these two lines, a dangerous rabies situation was solved in a few months time. In recent years, in Ohio, numerous damage suits have been won by people bitten by dogs. While enforcement of the muzzling law is incubating, the dawn of reason on this particular subject can be hurried by prosecuting vigorously, damage suits against those owners whose dogs have been the cause of injury to people or live stock.

The Best Man In You

Be the best man in you, friend of mine!
There are more men within us than we know;
Some true, some false, some ignorant, some wise,
Some negative, some earnest and divine;
Some high as truth, some base and very low,
And some so sweet they take us by surprise.

At morn, perhaps, the worst man that you are

Possessed you, and you could not cast him by.

What time you dreamed a dream beyond a star

And hungered for the things that seemed most high.

Be one, be two, be many as you will—

But try to be the best man in you still.

It may be hard to throw the others down,

And pin them down and keep them on their knees;

But let the best man wear the crown

And see how doubt before your purpose flees.

And life comes back, and love and faith and trust,

Oh, be the best man in you, friend—
—you must!

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MENTYRE.

New York Nov. 13.—Miss Liberty, that weather-beaten dame who holds aloft the torch of freedom while gazing significantly at Brooklyn, has caught the habit from her New York sisters and is going in for cosmetics.

She is being scraped of her greenish hue and cleansed of the moss and soot which have collected in the folds of her bronze garment. The government doctors took pounds of gold leaves and many buckets of paint out to Bedloe's Island to make Miss Liberty youthful once more.

It is no wonder she shows her age. Her closest associates are the tramp steamers which blunder up the bay to anchor just off her pedestal. Her internals are being constantly disturbed by good folk from St. Joseph, Springfield, and Raleigh who climb up the spiral insides and then rush hastily down so as not to be late for the show.

She has not washed her face since assigned to her present position. Petina, the art sharks call her affliction which has caused the statue to look like some one baptized her in a barrel of green paint.

One of the bright poets on a morning paper who quotes Horace frequently and then writes snappy up to date lines on the quotations has been accused of making Horace begin a poem in the Asclepiadean-Glyconic meter with a dactyl. R. M. Brinkerhoff, the cartoonist, says he wouldn't know a dactyl if one bit him on the hand.

New York seems to have two codes of manners. A prominent city salesman once said: "Above Fourteenth street I take off my hat in elevators. Below Fourteenth street, I keep it on."

It is noticeable that men in the upper section of New York are more polite to women than in the lower section. Good manners have become a mechanical embellishment subject to environment.

FREIGHTER AND TWO TUGS SINK

Erie, Pa., Nov. 13.—The P. D. Armour, a freighter of the Boland-Cornelius line, is pounding to pieces off Waldermeer, a summer resort four miles west of this place on Lake Erie. A tug accompanying the ship also is falling apart.

Three men from the Armour were taken off early today by the life saving crew, under Captain Hans Jansen, but the captain and the remainder, some five or six, refused to leave, saying they would make land at daybreak. They can now be seen, gathered on the forward deck while the ship seems to be sinking rapidly, the stern having settled well down into the lake.

Reports from the lake shore are that the Armour, towed by two tugs, one of them the Cleveland, of Ashtabula was bound down the lake from Cleveland to Buffalo with a cargo of coal. There was a heavy sea and it was believed the Armour struck. Two tugs, one of them presumably the Cleveland, are reported to have gone down. Each carried a crew of five or six men.

MANY BELIEVE YOST'S DAYS AT MICHIGAN NUMBERED

Wolverine Play Falls Off Since Change Of Rules

According to several rumors, football at Michigan may receive the same kind of shakeup as has been staged at Yale and Penn. In other words, the methods of fielding Yost, who has had control of football activities at Ann Arbor since 1901, are beginning to be criticized, and if half of what one hears is true, Michigan is more than apt to have a new coach next season.

Yost for many years the idol of the Michigan undergraduate body, is losing his grip on popularity. He is not considered the same wizard as in the days of old. The Michigan rooters each year raise the cry for another "point a minute" team, but they raise that cry in vain.

Is Yost Unable To Handle New Game?

Is Yost slipping? In the days of long ago Yost was without question the equal of any football coach in the world. The record of the Michigan teams which he coached stand out as proof of his ability. But with the advent of the forward pass Michigan has failed to show the superiority she displayed on the gridiron before the forward pass was a legal play.

Not since the long heaves have been allowed has Michigan won a championship. Not since the forward pass came into vogue has Michigan been able to boast of one season in which she has escaped defeat.

Why is this change? Michigan has been growing all the time and naturally Yost has had just as many to pick from, and his teams are just as big now as when he first took charge of the Wolverines. Is Yost the man whose teams were almost unbreakable in the days of old football, unable to come through with the same kind of success under the present playing code? Whether he is able to handle the new rules, is not the question; the records show that he has not been successful since the days of the forward pass, and success is the only thing that counts in the coaching game.

Michigan's Record Never Approached

Under the old rules, Yost was invincible. No team ever made a record equal to that of the teams which represented Michigan in 1901-3-4-5 teams which Yost coached as successfully that the smaller eleven set up a cry to have the rules changed so that they would have some kind of a chance against the "hosts of Yost."

Even the great record of the Washington eleven cannot be compared to that of Michigan during those five years, for Michigan met all comers, the better they were, the more Michigan liked the fight. And in those five years, pitted against the best in the country, Yost's style of coaching gave Michigan fifty-five victories in fifty-seven games. In one of the two games unaccounted for, Wisconsin tied Michigan, 0 to 0. In the other, Chicago defeated Michigan 2 to 0, on a safety, when a Michigan runner was downed behind his own goal.

In these five years Michigan ran up a grand total of 2,795 points, an average of 49 11-57 points per game, while the sum of the points scored

Yale-Princeton Game Today's Headliner In Football World

New York, Nov. 13.—The Yale-Princeton contest at New Haven today claims chief interest among the day's gridiron battles in the east. Princeton will go on the field a strong favorite over the Blue because of the numerous defeats Yale has suffered this season but the experts figure that there is a chance that Yale's new coaches will uncover unexpected ability.

Michigan plays its last game of the season with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia today and a close struggle is expected. Cornell expects Washington and Lee to put up a hard fight in the battle at Ithaca. Colgate and Syracuse whose victories over teams usually of higher standing has placed them in the front rank this year, play at Syracuse. A close score is looked for in the Harvard-Brown game.

Other games in the east today are: Maine vs. Army, at West Point. Colby vs. Navy, at Annapolis. Amherst vs. Williams, at Williamstown. Bates vs. Dartmouth, at Hanover. Dickinson vs. Carlisle, at Carlisle. Penn State vs. Lafayette, at Easton. Washington and Jefferson vs. West Virginia Wesleyan, at Clarksburg. Carnegie vs. Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh.

Looks Like Harvard

There's every chance that the eastern football supremacy will never be definitely settled this season. Of course, should Cornell, Pitt or Colgate escape defeat, while every other team has been licked, there'll be no questioning where the honors go.

And in that event it's to be doubted that the best team has really won the championship. To all intents Harvard is just as good as any other eleven in the east, and this despite the defeat administered by Cornell.

Arrows At Ironton

The New Boston Arrows will play the best team in Ironton Sunday at Beechwood park, Ironton, when they tackle the strong Lombard eleven. The Lombards played the Tigers at Millbrook three weeks ago and were beaten by a score of 36 to 0. The following players will make the trip on the noon N. & W. train: Payton, Dailley, Chinn, Bowser, Smith, Poole, Semones, Schusky, Patton, Foster, Minor, Conley, Phillips and Patton. Every player should be on Millbrook at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning for practice.

Wizard Recalls Famous Game

In a fanning bee Mordecai Brown was asked to tell the best game that he ever pitched.

"There is one game which stands out in my mind above all others. That was in 1908, when we beat the New York Giants in the play-off for the National League pennant. You will remember that Pfeister started that game and filled the bases in the first inning. Chance mentioned to me to go in, and I got out of the hole with but one run scored against us.

"In the third inning we made four runs off Mathewson. In the seventh inning the Giants started a rally and made one run. The game ended with the score of 4 to 2.

"The strain of that game was never equalled by me. Upon it hinged a league championship and the right and honor of play in the world's series. In addition to this, the feeling in New York was at such an extreme pitch that we had received 'Black Hand' letters, which threatened us with our severest lives if we took the pennant from New York.

"I don't believe I ever was so alarmed on a diamond as at the conclusion of that game, when the crowd at the Polo grounds practically mobbed us. Chance was hit in the neck and could not speak for several days. Other players were similarly treated. Luckily I escaped."

Chicago Will Use Three Sets Of Backs Against Minnesota Team

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Contests between Chicago and Minnesota at Minneapolis and Wisconsin, and Illinois at Champaign, the results of which will have an important bearing on the "Big Nine" football championship, command the interest of western gridiron followers today.

Chicago faces a weight disadvantage in meeting Minnesota, but Coach Stagg will depend on the speed of his back field players, and their ability to execute intricate plays evolved for the contest to bring about victory. Chicago has three sets of back field men ready for the game.

Wisconsin is prepared to put up a hard fight against Illinois in order to remain a factor in the championship race.

Northwestern goes into action against Indiana at Evansville, in a game to determine which team shall finish last in the western conference race.

Other games in the west are: Purdue vs. Kentucky at Lexington.

Ohio State vs. Oberlin at Columbus.

Iowa vs. Ames, at Iowa City. Creighton vs. Notre Dame at Omaha.

Wittenburg vs. Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

Case vs. Wooster at Wooster. Western Reserve vs. Mount Union at Cleveland.

Miami vs. Ohio University at Oxford.

Oberlin At Ohio State

Columbus, Nov. 13.—With Oberlin as an opponent, Ohio State will play its last football game of the season on Ohio field today. Unless the visitors show unexpected strength, Coach Wiley will give a number of second string men an opportunity to appear in the lineup.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is falling, gray or dry, coarse, thin and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur, to one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

THE TOLL OF CARELESSNESS.

Perhaps, automobile accidents were not more numerous last Sunday than on any other first day of the week, since the new method of locomotion has become general, but certainly not on any one other were so many killed and injured.

The telegraph reports show far more than a half hundred people figuring in mishaps of various degrees and, doubtless there were that many more which did not get onto the wires. With the exception of two, all were the result of a lack of proper prudence, the most common being no precaution taken in approaching railroad crossings and high speeding.

We believe the auto craze is about spent, that is the speed mania has about run its course. Yet, it is undeniable there is still too much "hitting her up" at that. There is yet, however, too fast going where the person at the wheel is not familiar with the highway being traversed and so he often finds himself unprepared for the peril that confronts him. If every driver would bring his car under complete control before reaching a track, rounding a sharp curve, or when prevented by some obstruction from seeing what may lie a short distance beyond, ninety-nine per cent of serious accidents now occurring could and would be avoided. For generally automobile making has now reached such safety, that seldom, indeed, does mishap come through the developing of some defect in the machine itself.

EVERYBODY DELIGHTED.

There never was a candidacy received with such universal acceptance as that which Frank B. Willis, alias our good young Governor, has announced for re-election. The Republicans are relieved of a thousand times worse dilemma than had been carried to a climax his absurd delusion of going after the presidency, the Blue Democrats accept it as the only possible means of them getting the crumbs that fall from the table and Democrats are delirious with approval because in the Big Fellow they see their meat.

Saying Republicans accept the candidacy in lieu of something worse, a contest for national delegates, where many wouldn't know where to jump and the impossible Jack Arnold, is not stating they are near to bursting with satisfaction. To the contrary, they are sore and despondent. Many let their endorsement go no further than approval of his withdrawal from contest for a higher office, and they, knowing the general dissatisfaction with which he has filled both people and partisans with his conduct of the governorship, believe he is in for a most thorough trouncing.

There isn't call to give the reasons why these conditions have arisen, what Willis has done and not done, the voters are just simply disgusted with him as the head of the government of this state and there is neither need, nor profit to argue to or against that. He is doomed and that is all.

SAVE THE LEAVES.

Along about this time every year, the people who know, make appeals to the people who do not know to save the old leaves in the interest of economy. Certainly they should not be burned; they are too valuable to be wasted in that manner. But that is the favorite method of dealing with them here in the city, for the reason that so many people are not prepared to take care of the leaves in any other manner.

The proper way to take care of the leaves would be to store them in tanks, or holes in the earth, or boxes, and leave them exposed to the weather, stirring them up occasionally all winter so they will be thoroughly decomposed by spring. Then they should be returned to the soil of the garden or the flower beds, or the lawn. Handled in this way they become a valuable fertilizer—nature's own way, in fact, of maintaining the soil.

And nature does things in the right way. It is not until man comes along and robs the soil that the earth refuses to respond to the cries of the bursting seed. Nature takes from the soil to build the leaves, but she sees to it that the leaves return to the soil if she has her way, and man ought to follow nature as closely as possible, and allow the leaves to return to the soil whenever it is possible to do so.—Dayton News.

The announcement of Hon. Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, that he will not be a candidate for the nomination for United States senator, will be received with genuine regret by his Republican friends and also by hosts of Democrats, who, while differing from him on matters of principle, admired the man for his courage and honesty and good qualities generally. If by the fortune of politics, we are to have a Republican senator to succeed Senator Pomerehne, we do not know of a man in Ohio who would better fill the bill or more ably and truly represent Ohio than Mr. Cole.

We have our moments of depression when our first impulse is readily to ask any businesslike stranger who drops in at these elegantly appointed offices to come to the point at once and state in a few concise words what he's mad at us about.—Ohio State Journal.

IN PIKE COUNTY.

Commenting upon the Ohio State Journal editorial upon the Scioto Valley, recently quoted in The Times, the Gallipolis Tribune observes:

"Perhaps the remarks above apply to all the region covered except Pike county. We have read so many articles in Pike county newspapers impeaching the honesty, decency and general integrity of her citizens that we cannot but wonder what sort of men they really are down there. We know a few men in that county who stand high in our respect, but some of them are awful characters if what is said of them in their home papers is even approximately true. The kind of political wars they have in Pike almost make a man lose hope in the redemption of the race."

Of course the intemperate tone of the Pike county newspapers may convey the impression alluded to, and it is a matter of regret to the friends of those interested that it is so. As a matter of fact there are just as fine people in Pike county as there are anywhere else on earth, and the men engaged in the bitter newspaper and political warfare are not different from the average elsewhere. There has gradually grown up a condition of affairs however, in which it seems that no question of public moment can be discussed without resort to the strongest language and the harshest terms in alluding to the character or motives of those actively prominent. It is a bad condition, and it reacts upon all residents of the county, as is shown by the editorial in Mr. Sibley's paper. We feel sure that our friends in Pike county will all be happier and better, that they will accomplish more, if they will recognize the above fact, and decide to conduct their warfare on different lines in the future.

OTHERS JUST AS BAD.

In a short time the disfranchising sentences of various Adams county citizens will have expired and the vote of that county restored to normal conditions. It is more than probable that elections in Adams will be purer and better than they were before the famous Blair probe, but it is equally true that they have been, and will continue to be better in other counties. As a matter of fact Adams was no worse than a dozen or more counties in the state. Vote buying and selling was a general practice all over the state and it had come to such a pass that it was not regarded as a crime. For that reason we have always felt sorry for Adams county. She got a reputation for corruption and a notoriety that was most unfortunate while many of her neighbors, equally guilty, made haste to secretly clean their own doorsteps and then sat back in professed horror at Adams. We believe that as time goes on the nation at large will come to have a juster and fairer conception of the Adams county election cases and conditions in general and that there will be a much better feeling in reference to the whole matter.

Congressman Kearns, after having done his best to kick Scioto county out of his district, has executed a double somersault and tries to win back the love which he had spurned by rushing over here and picking out a Scioto county citizen as his secretary. It had been generally understood that Mr. Kearns had turned down applicants from this county and had named a Clermont county person as his secretary. This was, however, before the Sprague law rejection. That caused our congressman to see a great light and the result is that young Mr. Bauer will travel to Washington in the congressman's suite. The selection is a good one, the recipient of the favor being a very capable and clever young man. We rather think however that our astute congressman was a little slow in extending his favors. That which would have been good politics six months ago is too apparently a panic-stricken afterthought today.

What is puzzling us is who climbed on the Daugherty band wagon first, Bannon or Hard? Mr. Bannon got his announcement in the papers first, beating Mr. Hard to it by a whole 24 hours. The question is, did Hard hop in after seeing Bannon crowding up front, or did Bannon learn that Hard was going about the stunt with deliberation and made haste to beat him to it?

Someway it seems to us that just when we are getting to the point where we can see daylight ahead and figure on making a little real genuine money the growth of business necessitates the spending of everything in sight for additional equipment. Still, we suppose that is much more desirable situation than to be standing still or going backward.

A MAN'S DOG.

If you have ever known and loved a dog you will enjoy a "Point of View" in the Christmas Scribner, on "Some Dogs". "I have no dog now, but I sometimes pretend I have. It is an easy thing to pretend. I imagine him lying before the fire, close beside me so that I can put out my foot to nudge his hairy back. He understands that I am telling him I love him. I think of him as waiting—a gentle, pensive quiver—how patiently he endures that fearful creation of time, an interval. I see him on a tramp—a joyous series of important explorations of the trivial. There is a frenzy of joy on his long, galloping dashes in open country, his perpetual "skinning under" fences, his sudden pursuits of a slow rising bird. He reveals an ecstatic vigor even in the biting of a burr from his tail. But, most of all, I love him when from the midst of these alarms and excursions, in red-tongued happiness, he comes racing back—to me."

The statement of Hon. Chas. E. Hard that one of the Sixth district delegates to the Republican national convention should come from Scioto county and that "it will be some one whom the Republican organization and committeemen can support", sounds to a man up a tree as a polite intimation that the Hon. Henry T. Bannon will have a fight on his hands if he persists in his stand on being a candidate for delegate. If Mr. Bannon does refuse to be scared off, there will be some fight, believe us fellow countrymen, and the man who has the "support of the organization" will surely know that he has had a scrap.

ADD TO OUR EQUIPMENT.

In order to take care of business it has become necessary for The Times to increase the facilities of its composing department, and an order has been placed for a new typesetting machine. This machine should be in operation within two weeks and it represents the latest achievement of the company which manufactures it, the International Typesetting Company. The new machine will be equipped with type magazines of varying sizes that will enable The Times to give its advertisers practically any size of type they may desire, in the composition of their advertisements from six point to 30 point. The purchase of the new Intertype machine will give The Times five machines, and with the early addition of some other needed equipment will give us as complete an office as can be found anywhere in a small city.

When they get tired of a statesman over in Europe they have a cute little custom of sending him to the front where the shells fall thickest, on an "inspection tour". For further particulars Lord Kitchener might be consulted.

With the Scioto Trail paving completed and in use all eyes are now turned toward the Great White Way and the new bridge. Also the Simpson Trail comes in for a peep or two.

Wall Street is advising the public to buy stocks, because the war orders make prosperity, and to sell them, because the war may soon be over.—Springfield (Mo.) Republican.

Hydrophobia In Ohio

Since the first of January, 1915, the laboratory of the State Board of Health has examined 189 brains of animals thought to have rabies. During the same period, the laboratory of the Cincinnati Department of Health has examined twenty-four.

In one hundred and fifteen of the state examinations and fourteen of the Cincinnati examinations, the suspicion was confirmed, showing that the disease is widespread in Ohio.

Three of the Cincinnati examinations were the brains of milk cows that died after developing the furious form of the disease.

Throughout the state, five cases have been reported in human beings during the year and, as the disease invariably results fatally, it is safe to assume that five unfortunate solved the great problem through this most terrible form of death. During the last month six people in Hamilton county have been bitten by rabid dogs and are now going through the Pasteur treatment.

During the past five years, three deaths have occurred in Cincinnati from rabies, two coming to our hospitals for treatment after the disease developed and the other being a local resident.

It is difficult to understand the apathy of the general public on the question of the control of the dog population. Valuable livestock can be destroyed, helpless children torn to ribbons and others subjected to the most terrible death known, and any attempt made to enforce the muzzling laws arouses a storm of protest wherever tried.

There are two varieties of dogs in every community: those that are owned, and vagrants. The vagrant or tramp dog bears the same relationship to the dog population that human tramps do to society at large. They are the chief source of rabies infection and the active spreaders of the disease to other valuable animals including dogs.

It is perfectly apparent that a muzzling ordinance cannot be enforced against an ownerless dog. The tax-paid dog wearing a muzzle becomes "easy picking" for the unmuzzled, unowned, vagrant cur. Twelve months enforcement of the muzzling laws against all dogs would eradicate rabies in this country. Its enforcement against owned dogs only would have no other effect than to place them at the mercy of the unowned, tax free canine.

The present state of affairs is indefensible from any point of view. As long as it continued, the daily press will continue to give space to damage done to children and live stock, and parents will be compelled to go through the agony of waiting to see whether or not a dog bite will or will not be followed by hydrophobia.

The Best Man In You

Be the best man in you, friend of mine!

There are more men within us than we know;

Some true, some false, some ignorant, some wise,

Some negative, some earnest and divine;

Some high as truth, some base and very low,

And some so sweet they take us by surprise.

At morn, perhaps, the worst man that you are

Possessed you, and you could not cast him by,

What time you dreamed a dream beyond a star

And hungered for the things that seemed most high.

Be one, be two, be many as you will—

But try to be the best man in you still.

It may be hard to throw the others down,

And pin them down and keep them on their knees;

But let the best man wear the crown

And see how doubt before your purpose flees.

And life comes back, and love and faith and trust,

Oh, be the best man in you, friend—
—you must!

O-O-MENTYRE.

New York Nov. 13.—Miss Liberty, that weather-beaten dame who holds aloft the torch of freedom while gazing significantly at Brooklyn, has caught the habit from her New York sisters and is going in for cosmetics.

She is being scraped of her greenish hue and cleansed of the moss and soot which have collected in the folds of her bronze garment. The government doctors took pounds of gold leaves and many buckets of paint out to Bedloe's Island to make Miss Liberty youthful once more.

It is no wonder she shows her age. Her closest associates are the tramp steamers which blunder up the bay to anchor just off her pedestal. Her internals are being constantly disturbed by good folk from St. Joseph, Springfield, and Raleigh who climb up the spiral insides and then rush hastily down so as not to be late for the show.

She has not washed her face since assigned to her present position. Patina, the art sharks call her affliction which has caused the statue to look like some one baptized her in a barrel of green paint.

POLLY AND HER PALS

NO, SIR, PA ISN'T GOING TO PAINT THE PIN!

WILLIAM BENNETT, LOCAL BOY, ON FIRING LINE

Was In The Midst Of Bursting Shells When Villa And Carranza's Forces Staged Fight

William Bennett, who was trapped at the Temple theatre on Eleventh street, when he enlisted writes very interestingly of the battles ranging between Carranza and Villa forces just across the border from Douglas, Arizona, where Bennett is stationed with Company D, Seventh U. S. Infantry. The following is an extract from a letter sent to his grandfather David Bennett on Robinson avenue.

Co. D, 7th Infantry, Douglas, Arizona, Nov. 3 and 4, 1915.

Carranza and Villa had a big fight just across the line last night. They are still fighting. It was awful. I can hardly tell you how I felt. We were under cover part of the time. We were only 700 yards from their firing line. Shells were bursting, bullets were flying all around us. One of our boys was shot through the chest. We heard he died. Another got shot in both legs. I was standing about ten feet from my captain when a bullet struck him. Fortunately it just ripped his overcoat sleeve. A bullet went through one man's hat and into another man's neck. It was quite an ordeal to me. One hit the street and went past me like greased lightning. Believe me, I laid down right then.

The battle started yesterday at noon and it is still raging. I suppose we will have to go down to night if they fire any artillery at us. We have 30 big 6-inch guns planted and loaded for bear. Villa has only 3-inch pieces.

Carranza has exploded several big mines and when one goes off you think the end of the world is near.

Soldiers Sleep In Alley.

We slept in an alley last night. I said slept but we never. We got hot coffee last night and that helped some. It is a wonder more of us were not hit. I never heard such a noise in my life. We were called out to encounter two thousand Yaqui Indians who were coming our way but Carranza beat us to them. They ran into one of his wire entanglements and they were charged with a strong force of electricity and with artillery he made short work of them.

November 4, 1915. I have just returned from the trenches and will write you all about it. It was awful. Cannon balls were flying, rifle balls buzzing, and shrapnel were bursting. I found a schrapnel shell today. I am going to keep it. We were in the trenches two days and two nights. Night before last the squad I am in was sent out on a Gossack post.

Kept In Touch With The Trenches.

There were seven of us. I had to keep in touch with the trench in front. It was about 300 yards in front of us. I had to walk over to it once during the night. About two o'clock in the morning they started heavy firing again. I was sitting on the roof of our little trench we made for seven of us. When a rifle ball went zing, zing over my head I got in under cover right then. In about an hour one of our boys risked his life to bring us some hot coffee. It certainly did go fine. In spite of the danger we were in I had to laugh when the other six came out of the dug-out after the coffee. They looked like rats coming out of a hole, dirty faced and cold. We had our big military overcoats on but still we were very cold. We had to dig our trenches under fire. Then came daylight but it did not stop the battle. We were in position from our trenches to see the battle Villa and his wagon train were going after water. They were about two miles away when Carranza opened fire on him with heavy artillery. We could see the shells bursting among the wagons but Villa did not stop. He came back later and stormed Carranza's trenches but he did not run him from them.

Carranza seems to be getting the best of the fight.

OBITUARY

Benjamin Franklin Holmes

Benjamin Franklin Holmes was born at Bloom Furnace, Scioto county, O., October 26, 1857, and died November 4, 1915, at 2 a. m., at his home near Hales Creek, O. His father's name was Warren Holmes and his mother's maiden name was Phyllis Harper.

He was converted at the age of 19, baptized by Rev. G. W. Lloyd, and became a member of the Baptist church. He was superintendent of the Roscoe Baptist Sunday school for the last four years.

January 4, 1882, he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Emma B. Tracy, daughter of Rev. J. B. Tracy. To this union twelve children were born, three of whom preceded the father to the Great Beyond. Charles died October 15, 1896; Rena, July 26, 1912; Eugene, November 2, 1912. The children left are: Uri, Newell and Henry at home; Sonnet, Mrs. George Egbert and Mrs. V. V. Bonler, at Portsmouth; Lois and Ber-

IMPORTANT ORDINANCES AIMED AT CAR COMPANY

In its report of council proceedings in Ironton last night the Irontonian of local interest Saturday morning said:

An ordinance requiring that the street railway company admit passengers at one end of the cars and discharge them at the other was given first reading. Mr. James moved suspension of the rules to place the ordinance on its final passage but received no second.

An ordinance requiring the street railway company to maintain five watchmen was given first reading. The points at which watchmen would be required are at Elm street crossing, one at each point where the "Y" crosses Second street, one at Second and Center street and one where the N. & W. crosses South Third street. The ordinance will be up for second reading at next meeting.

The ordinance for the issuance of $250,000 water works bonds, which had been deferred until after election in hopes that the bond exemption amendment would admit of the sale of bonds at four per cent was taken from the table and given first reading. The ordinance called for twenty-year four and one-half per cent bonds dated December 31, 1915.

nice at home; and Gussie, a teacher in the New Boston schools. The father and two brothers are also, left to mourn his loss. There are four grand-children living.

For many years Mr. Holmes was well and widely known as one of the best heavy construction carpenters in this section of the country.

For the last few years he has been giving his attention to farming, in which he has been equally successful. As a man, Mr. Holmes was a person of very strong convictions, always with the courage to stand for them. His strong will and firm determination at times doubtless cost him some friends, but his courage was such that to him a cause was right was to stand and fight for it, if necessary, regardless of the cost.

Most men are disposed to follow, and few to lead; such courage as his was rare and the kind that has made men great.

No person could malign a friend of his in his presence with impunity. To his friends he was as true as steel, and friendship with him was far more than a name.

Mr. Holmes was a member of the Knights of Pythias, being a charter member of South Webster Lodge No. 754. In this lodge he was honored by being elected to positions of dignity and honor. He was also a member of the Oak Hill lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. With him Masonry was as near a religion as Masonry could be, but not quite a religion. He ever kept in mind the fine distinction between Masonry and the church which should be well known to all; as an institution for morality, the other for immortality.

Mr. Holmes had the honor to be widely known everywhere, respected, and his less as a member of the community and as a citizen of the county will be keenly felt by a host of friends, or by Shakespeare, let us still better say, "The elements were so mixed in him that all the world might stand up and say he was a man."

Denver E. Millrons

In loving memory of little Denver E. son of Mrs. Grace Millrons, of 1330 Twelfth street, Portsmouth, O. Born July 25th, 1915, departed this life Nov. 6, 1915, aged 9 years. The flower of the home, Denver Earl babbled on earth, but bloomed in Heaven. There are many relatives and friends to mourn the loss of a dear baby.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber. Peaceful in the grave so low: Thou no more will join our number, Thou no more our sorrows know.

Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is fled. And in Heaven with joy to greet thee.

Where no farewell tears are shed, In life we loved you dearly, In death we do the same. We often sit and think of you When we are all alone.

For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own. LOVING AUNT BLANCHIE.

How to Serve Potatoes. Potatoes should always be served in an uncovered dish. If it is necessary for them to stand for a few minutes before being served cover them with a cloth, not a lid, in order that the steam as it condenses may be absorbed by the cloth and not returned to the potatoes to make them soggy and hard to digest.

The Longest Rivers. Of the seven longest rivers of the world were put end to end they would reach 500 miles of encircling the earth.

Ironton Council May Eliminate License

An ordinance doing away with the licensing of picture houses in Ironton was introduced and given its first reading in the city council of Ironton Friday evening. Definite action on the ordinance was deferred until a later meeting.
